Moscow May Day Parade Emphasizes Labor Force

Usually Big Red Parade Of Arms Cut

No New Weapons Shown; West Gets Verbal Shellacking

By The Associated Press

Workers' parades and speeches of labor leaders around the world today marked May Day, the ancient spring festival which is now an international labor celebration outside the United States. Moscow's demonstration emphasized civilian labor and held the annual military parade to 15 minutes.

Communists and non-Communists alike took the day off in many nations for demonstrations. U. S. workmen, who celebrate the first Monday in September, worked as usual.

Police Forces Tense

Mindful of past workers' clashes on May Day in some countries, police forces of many nations were tense.

Demonstrations ranged from the annual Moscow parade, in which an estimated million persons participated, to small rallies in many nations.

In Moscow, the brief display of conventional military equipment rumbled through Red Square, followed by a sports display and Moscow residents marching before Soviet leaders and U. A. R. President Nasser. It was the shortest May Day military march in years and no new weapons were shown. The day's speaker, Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, sounded the usual fulminations against the West and the usual Soviet promises of peace through strength.

Communist East Germany, in a 40-minute display of military equipment, showed armored trucks, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns, heavy howitzers and the first T34 Soviet medium tanks seen in East Berlin.

Demonstration Begins

In the Western sector of the divided city, a demonstration began with the slogan "Peace-Freedom-Progress."

Peiping radio said half a million Chinese Communist workers, peasants and students paraded before Premier Chou En-lai "in unprecedentedly high spirits."

Some 300,000 Japanese demonstrated peacefully in Tokyo. The workers supported the Socialist opposition with demands for the defeat of the conservative government in coming parliamentary elections.

Groups Urge Cut In Taxes

WASHINGTON (INS)—Top labor, business and farm organizations today chorused a demand for tax cuts along with a wide range of other measures to beat the recession.

Spokesmen for the AFL-CIO, the National Association of Manufacturers, the National Farmers Union and other groups all urged a tax reduction at a hearing of the congressional subcommittee on fiscal policies.

Only two organizations—the American Farm Bureau Federation and the Committee for Economic Development—backed off from urging tax slashes at this time. However, CED Research Chairman Frazar B. Wilde said that Congress should start working on a tax cut to be "promptly enacted" if clear signs of an upturn do not emerge soon.

Russians Work Overtime To Make Friends In U. S.

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

AP Foreign News Analyst

The Russians are working overtime these days trying to make friends and influence people in the United States. The campaign has many facets.

The Moiseyev folk dance ensemble from Moscow is off this week-end to tour other American cities after a series of performances in New York. The three-score young people in the group are cultural good will ambassadors.

The new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail Menshikov, has been at his post in Washington less than three months. He is a sought-after public speaker. Wherever he goes he is out to sell the Soviet point of view, and he is reaching many people.

Four-Day Work Week Proposed

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today Congress should study the feasibility of a four-day work week, at least in some industries, as a possible cure and preventive of recessions.

He said it should be considered along with the ideas of a guaranteed annual wage and profit sharing for workers in industries which have periodic layoffs. He mentioned the automobile industry as one.

Get To Consider Plan

Aiken emphasized in an interview that he is not suggesting a quick switch to any of these ideas, but added: "Eventually we've got to consider it, and I think we should consider it now."

Both the current business slump and prospects that many industries will need fewer workers in the future indicate, he said, that there is a need for something more than hurry-up steps to get people back on payrolls after recessions have thrown them out of jobs.

Automation Cause.

Aiken said automation in some sections of industry has led or is leading to a situation in which a peacetime economy just can't keep the available work force employed on a 40-hour week the year around.

A report from the Commerce Department, meanwhile, showed that sales and new orders at the manufacturers' level rose last month but not as much as is normal for this time of year. That meant that on a seasonally adjusted basis they declined a little.

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the Democratic candidate for president, joined the list of those calling for tax cuts to pep up the economy.

Chinese Fishing Vessel Attacked

TAIPEI, Formosa (INS)—A Nationalist Chinese fishing captain today reported his trawler was strafed northwest of the east Indonesian island of Celebes April 21. One crewman was killed and three were wounded.

The 65-ton boat docked today in southern Formosa. The skipper, said his ship was flying the Nationalist flag but he could not spot any insignia on the plane which machine-gunned the vessel.

Russians Work Overtime To Make Friends In U. S.

Another illustration of Soviet activity is this: Soviet representatives in Washington and New York have discovered the field of press relations which they previously ignored. Five Soviet press officers and attaches in the capital and three more in New York are cultivating American newsmen, inviting them to lunch, to cultural evenings at the Washington embassy and passing out occasional tips on diplomatic developments. The most rapidly expanding field for Soviet propaganda in the United States, however, is due to come in a great increase in the number of cultural delegations visiting here. These delegations—the Moiseyev troupe is one example—will be arriving under an agreement providing for cultural, scientific, and other exchanges.

Doctor Jailed In 'Cure Sale'

DETROIT (INS)—A medical doctor who ran for President on the Greenback ticket of 1944 was charged today with selling distilled water as a cure for cancer at $35 a shot. Dr. Leo Charles Donnelly was arrested in his office Wednesday night by a raiding party which included 14 officers, two of them from the Pure Food and Drug Administration.

'Silky' First Of 16 Named For Big Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (INS)—Sixteen 3-year-old colts, headed by the stretch-running Silky Sullivan, stretch-stepping Tim Tam, and temperamental Jewel's Reward, today were named for the 84th running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby Saturday.

A. B. Hancock, owner of the Claiborne Farm, denied not to enter Nadir, co-champion with Jewel's Reward of the 1957 juveniles. And Mrs. Lora Birt's Belleau Chief, conqueror of Silky Sullivan last Saturday, turned up with a near popped splint bone and won't race.

On the basis of 16 scatters the mile and one-sixteenth race will have a gross value of $163,000 with a net of $118,900 going to the winner. It cost $250 to enter a horse this morning and it'll take another $1,250 to get in the post parade for the 4:30 p.m. EST start.

Other horses entered were, Flamingo, Gone Fishin', Lincoln Road, Benedicto, Chance It Tony, Martins Rullah, Jet's Alibi, Ebony Pearl, Nouredin, A Dragon Killer, Warren G., Can Trust and Red Hot Pistol.

Silky Sullivan, a notorious slow starter, was the first horse to be entered.

Graham Asserts Too Many Shun Realities Of Life

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Evangelist Billy Graham told 11,000 persons last night that thousands of San Francisco Bay area residents are "escaping" the realities of life.

"In fact," Graham told his San Francisco crusade audience, "that is more true here than almost any area I have ever been in—there are thousands caught in the clutches of escapism."

The orator declared that the wanting to "escape" is the basic reason that San Francisco's suicide rate is one of the nation's highest, and its alcoholism rate is the highest in the country. He added that "the grace of God can give greater pleasure than escapism."

A total of 306 persons made "decisions for Christ" toward the conclusion of Graham's sermon.

Civil Agency Outer Space Controls Hit

Johnson Says Limit Of Military Usage Would Be Disastrous

WASHINGTON (INS)—The head of the Pentagon's special space bureau said it could be disastrous to allow a civilian agency to limit military uses of outer space.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency, called on Congress to write into President Eisenhower's bill for a civilian space agency a clearcut provision giving freedom for military space projects.

Should Not Have To Justify

"For example," Johnson told the House Space Committee, "if the Defense Department decides it to be militarily desirable to program for putting man into space, it should not have to justify this activity to this civilian agency."

Johnson's prepared statement elched sharply the question of whether military or civilian authorities should have the upper hand in future disputes over handling of space projects.

Control All But Military Eisenhower's bill envisages the civilian agency as controlling all government space research except for that "primarily associated" with military use. Administration witnesses have said disputes would be resolved by the president if necessary but that most would be settled by lower-level action.

Pending creation of a civilian agency, Eisenhower has authorized ARPA to go ahead for one year with experiments like shots at the moon. Eisenhower also ordered review of such projects to see whether they should be taken over by the proposed civilian unit.

In advance of the day's hearing, Deputy Secretary Donald A. Quarles said the Defense Department does not regard as a weapon a seeing-eye satellite that could spot objects on the earth's surface. Quarles explained in an interview why he told the committee Wednesday the Pentagon would not object to a Russian reconnaissance satellite.

Dental Plate Caused Death

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (INS)—Army authorities said today one paratrooper strangled to death when a partial dental plate lodged in his windpipe during a mass air drop here last week.

Maj. L. A. Breault, public information officer, said a partially completed investigation showed three other men strangled to death when parachute suspension lines tangled around their necks. The fifth victim died of a scalp laceration, Breault said.

The officer said Pfc. Alvinzo L. Martinez, Santa Fe, N.M., suffocated when a three-tooth upper front denture lodged in the paratrooper's windpipe while he was being dragged along the ground by his wind-filled parachute.

Mild Business Spring Jobless Decline, Sales Up, But Is It Enough?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (INS)—It's a mild spring if you look at the business weather map.

The sap is rising. But it's no gusher.

Item: 78,000 fewer persons are out of work than a month ago and 60,000 more have jobs. That's mostly because spring has opened up some outdoor employment and a number of those who were sticking close to home a while back have gone out and taken the jobs. The catch is that in most springs unemployment falls quite a bit more than that.

Item: Detroit reports that more persons are buying cars than in a spell back. The catch is that in other years spring sales peaked up a lot more than that.

Dixie Demos Support Ike Idle Pay Bill

Coalition Raises GOP Hopes; Vote Set Later Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House starts voting today on a bill for emergency unemployment relief with many Southern Democrats lining up behind the Eisenhower administration program.

Emergence of a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democratic conservatives against the broader Democratic plan for federal relief grants raised the hope of GOP leaders of winning the crucial test, possibly late today.

The showdown comes when Republican leaders put up the Eisenhower bill as a substitute for the measure sent to the House by Ways and Means Committee Democrats.

"It looks to me like the administration substitute is going over," reported Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant GOP floor leader.

If the House passes the Democratic version, Halleck said, "I think I can say with confidence it will be vetoed."

Democratic leaders discounted the strength of the coalition, however, and predicted their bill would win on a roll call vote.

The Democratic bill calls for 16 weeks of jobless payments to both insured and uninsured workers, with the federal government footing the estimated 1½ billion dollar cost.

The Eisenhower program would limit benefits to insured workers who have exhausted benefits under state systems, and require the states to pay back the estimated 600 million dollar cost after four years. The extension would be 13 weeks in most states, based on a 50 per cent increase in the present limits.

Dozen Buried By Landslide

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (INS)—Pasquale Fedele stayed late at the bar Wednesday night in the village of Calanna. As he drank, a landslide crashed down on his home and his next door neighbor's.

Twelve persons were buried—Pasquale's wife, five children and mother-in-law, and five neighbors. Rescue squads said there was almost no chance that any of the 12 were alive.

The slide was caused by recent heavy rains.

New Regime Takes Office In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—Arturo Frondizi was sworn in today as president of Argentina's first democratic government in more than a decade. He promised a rule of law and justice.

The tall, bespectacled lawyer took the oath before a joint session of the new Congress, ending 2½ years of provisional military government since the overthrow of Juan D. Peron's dictatorship.

Alejandro Gomez, Frondizi's running mate in the left-of-center Radical party, then took the oath as vice president.

Vice President Nixon, who came 5,000 miles to see Frondizi inaugurated, was held up in traffic and missed the swearing-in ceremony. He arrived as Frondizi was making his inaugural address and a crowd outside hooted as he entered the building.

Frondizi said the first bill his government will submit "will be ample and generous amnesty," and all parties will become free to carry on political activity.

To this obvious reference to the outlawed Peronista party he added that he was voted into office by the great majority of Argentine citizens, including Peron followers.

Stepping down are two heroes of the 1955 revolution, Provisional President (Maj. Gen.) Pedro Aramburu and Vice President (Adm.) Isaac Rojas. They are fulfilling a promise to turn over power to constitutionally elected officials.

'My Fair Lady' Receives Hearty British Welcome

LONDON (INS)—Newspaper critics gave old George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" a hearty welcome home from America today in its new guise as the hit musical "My Fair Lady."

The musical began its London run Wednesday night with the leads again played by Rex Harrison, Julie Andrews and Stanley Holloway. Britons all, from the original New York cast.

The critics were all favorably disposed toward it, and a cheering capacity crowd of 2,300 gave the cast 10 curtain calls.

Three Police Officers Held In Burglaries

Baltimore Patrolmen Accused In 17 Thefts Totalling Over $7,000

BALTIMORE (INS)—Three Baltimore patrolmen were charged today with 17 counts of burglary which police said netted more than $7,000 in cash and merchandise.

Lt. Frank T. Schmidt said a number of business places in North Baltimore were burglarized, some of the robberies occurring while the men were off duty and others while they were on duty and in uniform.

Patrolman Marvin Bridgeman, 28, and Patrolman Michael Molloy, 35, were charged with four burglaries each and held in $12,000 bail. Patrolman Herbert W. Brazier Jr., 24, was charged with nine burglaries and held in $20,000 bail.

Magistrate James P. Farnsee told them "you are a disgrace to your families, to the community in which you live and even more important to the uniform of the Baltimore City Police Department."

Schmidt said a large quantity of stolen goods was recovered from the homes of the patrolmen. Places burglarized, Schmidt said, included a hi-fi shop, taverns, a tobacco store, a paint shop, a parakeet shop and the headquarters of the Society of Friends.

Schmidt told the magistrate that the investigation was touched off by a fellow officer who reported he saw one of the three patrolmen "acting suspiciously" while patrolling his beat.

The suspected patrolman was put under surveillance and the two others were implicated as the investigation grew, Schmidt said. Bridgeman has been on the force 5½ years; Molloy 5 years and Brazier about 2 years.

Rock 'n Roll Idol Injured By Fans

LONDON (INS)—British rock 'n' roll idol Tommy Steele, knocked unconscious by a mob of fans, called in his doctors today and canceled public appearances until further notice. Steele's agents said he is resting in his Edin-burgh hotel.

England's tousle-haired answer to Elvis Presley wound up on the floor with his guitar-twangling right arm twisted behind his back, his shirt ripped off, and tufts of hair torn out after a concert in Dundee, Scotland. He was carried unconscious to his dressing room.

6,000 Students Get Report On Manned Space Flights

OKLAHOMA CITY (INS)—Six thousand picked Oklahoma high school students today got a first hand report on what it will take to put a man in space.

To explain the problems that are involved, the Air Force sent its top space brains, including the head of the ballistic missiles and space flight branch, Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever.

Backing the conference was the Frontiers of Science, a private group of Oklahomans interested in boosting science. Invited to the affair were the top students of 400 state high schools. For their benefit, the Air Force set up a giant Thor missile, then

Sees Bum's Rush Given To Marines

McElroy Asserts No Unusual Realignment Of Services Intended

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Marine Corps commandant said today that if Congress enacts President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan as written, some future secretary of defense may give the Marine Corps "the bum's rush."

At the same time the House Armed Services Committee received written assurance from Secretary of Defense McElroy that his department has no intention of making "a sweeping realignment of the services or their administration." He said any merger of services would be expressly forbidden by the proposed law.

"The Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps retain their respective individualities," McElroy wrote.

Most Outspoken Blat

Gen. Randolph M. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, appeared before the committee to deliver the most outspoken opposition yet voiced by any service witness to features of the administration proposal.

Pate said he finds it difficult to see how sections of the present law which spell out the roles and missions of each service "can be regarded as unduly restrictive, other than by some future secretary of defense who intended sooner or later to alter the Marines' status and functions."

Would Repeal Sections

Pate said he finds his major criticism of the administration proposal to the section which has aroused perhaps the most hostility among members of the committee—Eisenhower's recommendation that these sections spelling out the job of each military service be repealed.

The President gave new evidence Wednesday night of his intention to fight for the repeal of his plan, which he summed up in the phrase "safety with solvency."

Must Have Single Theory

Speaking at a dinner of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Eisenhower said "we must have a single theory of defending our country," and that the strengthening of the military establishment must be done in the most economical way. He said, "I want to see America's defense machinery as strong as a single American mind and determination can make it."

Testifying before the committee, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, spoke up for the administration bill, which would strengthen the authority of the secretary of defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff while removing the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force from the direct chain of command.

Might Stretch Intent But Burke said the wording of the bill is such that some future (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Talks Reopen On GM Pact

DETROIT (INS)—Smiling and casual, negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers returned to the bargaining table today and the union said it has almost completed presentation of its demands.

The negotiators are under pressure to reach a settlement in the next 29 days. But as they wandered into the conference room of the huge GM office building, they looked anything but men in a hurry.

Earl R. Bramblett, GM's director of labor relations, said "We've got a constructive proposal for agreement on the table."

At the same time he indicated the company is standing pat on its suggestion to renew the wage terms of the present contract.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (INS)—Infuriated by repeated thefts from his farm gasoline tank, Ralph Hale dumped in 20 pounds of sugar. In a few days, he found that a vehicle had required a major reconditioning job because sugar had gummed up the motor.

Said Hale, "That fellow's got what you might call a sweet running motor!"

Hoover Raps 'Glorification' Of Criminals

Movies, TV Applaud Crime As Juvenile Wave On Upswing

WASHINGTON (INS)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sharply criticized today what he described as "crime glorification" by movies and TV.

Hoover said that while the nation was going through its worst juvenile crime wave, "We are threatened with a flood of movies and television presentations which flaunt indecency and applaud lawlessness."

He referred to FBI-compiled figures which showed that youths under 18 years of age accounted for 47.2 per cent of the arrests for major crimes in 1957.

The FBI chief, who recently protested to the motion picture industry about a new film on the life of gunman "Baby Face" Nelson and demanded that the FBI be disassociated from it, called for self-censorship by movie and TV producers "to correct this ominous trend of crime glorification."

He said in his monthly law enforcement bulletin to police units across the country that he "deplored" censorship. But he declared law enforcement officers should speak up when the law is "held up to ridicule and the criminal is elevated to heroic proportions."

The FBI director said the public is currently being subjected to hero-worship of criminals that has not been equaled since the days of the notorious John Dillinger, when throngs made "a virtual shrine" out of his home and filed past the bier containing his bullet-ridden corpse.

The FBI director acknowledged that the movie and TV industries had many figures who carried out their responsibility in influencing the public to recognize the "wretched, unglamorous leeches" that mark the criminal ranks of the nation.

MAN'S TREE HOME IS HIS CASTLE—Ken Templeton, 9, left, and his brother, John, 8, are ready to defend their tree house against the town of Alderton, Calif., which ordered the roof demolished because the boys did not get a building permit. The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Templeton, vow they'll "fight in every court" to retain the tree house. California Attorney General Edmund S. Brown called a San Francisco lawyer to intervene as a friend of the court if any attempt is made by city council to force destruction of the tree house. He said: "It is true the days of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer are long gone, but this doesn't mean today's youngsters should be legislated out of their rights to be happy and have fun in a tree." The boys appear to be ready for a long stay. (AP Photos).

Unidentified Radiation Picked Up By Satellites

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence of an unidentified form of radiation which may require special shielding precautions for space travel has been picked up by the Army's Explorer satellites.

So intense is the radiation—believed to come from the sun—that it caused cosmic ray counters aboard the two satellites to die out at times.

This was reported today to a special meeting of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Physical Society, called to hear first reports of preliminary scientific information from the satellites.

In addition to the report on the unidentified radiation, the various scientific accounts featured these announcements:

1. Temperatures within Explorer I have ranged from 32 to 104 degrees Fahrenheit—within the range of human survival—even though temperatures outside may vary from about 120 degrees below zero to about 800 degrees above. The reporting scientists said even less internal variation could be achieved.

2. Only seven hits by micrometeorites—tiny, speeding particles of space dust—which might present another hazard to space travel—were recorded by Explorer I during a period of a month—and apparently none of them penetrated the satellite's shell.

3. The atmosphere 230 miles above the earth is 14 times more dense than was believed in the pre-satellite era, according to calculations of a Smithsonian scientist.

Senate Gets D. C. Home Rule Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate District Committee yesterday approved a home rule bill for the District of Columbia and sent it to the Senate floor.

The measure, prepared by the District Commissioners, would establish a territorial form of government for the city. The administrative measure passed the committee on a 5-2 vote.

Chief city officials under the bill would be a governor and secretary, appointed by the President with Senate approval, for four-year terms.

A 15-member legislature would be elected.

Ike Won't Groom:

Nixon Placed In Dilemma By Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's statement he has no responsibility to groom a successor appeared today to have put Vice President Nixon in a political dilemma.

Nixon's expected bid for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination apparently must rise or fall largely on the record of a chief executive who now indicates he doesn't plan to push any particular aspirant as his successor.

In case of a dispute over policies, this puts Nixon in the position of being forced to choose between an open break with Eisenhower—which no one expects—or going along on Eisenhower's policies—and decisions without promise of the President's backing.

As Eisenhower noted, he and Nixon are warm friends, and Nixon is kept in close touch with government activities. He currently is in Buenos Aires as part of an official good will tour.

As an active participant in Cabinet and National Security Council deliberations, Nixon can help as an individual to shape the administration's course. There is no doubt he supports many of the decisions and policies enthusiastically, but if the decisions go against his own judgment he seems likely to be stuck with them politically.

Fruit, Vegetables, Cotton, Grains Hike Farm Prices

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Record high prices for fruits and vegetables and substantial rises in prices of cotton and some feed grains sent the general level of farm prices up another 1.14 per cent during the month ended April 15.

This increase came on top of a 4 per cent upturn in March to strengthen Secretary of Agriculture Benson in his forecast that farm income in 1958 would top that of 1957 by from 5 to 10 per cent. It put farm prices at the highest point since January 1953, highest point since January 1953, inflation took off.

The April price movement, reported late Wednesday by the Federal Crop Reporting Board, was accompanied by a one per cent increase in the level of prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in production and family living.

As a consequence, farm prices remained at the March level of 87 per cent of parity. This compared with 82 per cent a year ago.

Wednesday's price report did not take into account modest declines in prices of hogs and cattle that have taken place since mid-April. These setbacks, which were seasonal in character, will show up in a price report to be issued a month from now.

The increase in prices of fruits, vegetables, cotton and feed grains was offset in part by declines in prices for dairy products, eggs and poultry—declines which also were seasonal in character.

A major factor in the further advance in prices and fruits and vegetables was continued unfavor-

Auto Dealers Urge Buyers' Confidence

Two Clevelanders Whoop Up Sales In Anti-Recession Move

CLEVELAND (AP)—Restore customers' shaky confidence and the recession is dead.

That's the theory of two Cleveland automobile dealers, Leo J. Conway and David Blaushild, who are whooping it up for bigger and better sales efforts by retailers, particularly new car salesmen.

"The money is there," Blaushild contends, "and the public wants to buy. But they're afraid."

"Really a pair of workers," President Eisenhower said after a half-hour meeting at the White House last week with the two businessmen who originated the "You Auto Buy Now" idea, which has spread nationally. The President agreed better salesmanship could spark economic recovery.

Plan To Post Prices
They told Eisenhower of their plan to post manufacturers' suggested prices on new cars. Dealers would be bonded to assure the prices were quoted properly.

The idea of a firm price and bonded dealers, Eisenhower said later at his news conference, would assure that "this business of undercutting and every other kind of bad practice will not keep people from buying."

"If everybody knows what he has to pay, and these people are so bonded, then confidence tends to go up."

Into Effect Next Week

Preaching hope in the economic future, Conway and Blaushild returned home and convinced the 138-member Cleveland Auto Dealers Assn. to adopt the plan. It goes into effect here next week, Blaushild said.

The 62-year-old Conway and Blaushild, 41, have been friends for years. They also are competitors. Their showrooms in suburban Shaker Heights are less than two blocks apart.

Jobless Decline

The U.S. Treasury either. When corporate profits fall, there's a good chance that Treasury tax receipts fall even more. For one thing, Uncle Sam usually takes a bit more than half of gross earnings. For another, when stockholders expect bad news anyway, some unfortunate ventures likely are ripe for being written off on the books.

And when corporate profits fall it's usually a good sign that individual incomes are sliding, too—whether from dividends, bonuses or overtime pay. All in all, this spring isn't producing the bonanza that gladdens the tax collector's heart.

But it could be a lot worse. Scattered but persistent reports of an increase in orders tempers the chill of the first-quarter earnings statements.

Steel, chemical and auto executives report these. The oil industry confidently expects more people will be going more places than ever this summer—or at least will be starting out with that intention.

Sees Bum's

administration might stretch it far enough to abolish a major unit of a service or whittle down a whole service—the Marines, for instance.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is not rigid on the wording of any reorganization bill. But he said any compromise on the basic essentials of the reorganization plan would mean a retreat to a dangerous degree of military ineffectiveness.

River Fails To Reach Flood Crest At Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Rivers and streams, hopped up on eight days of rain, surged across broad sections of north and east Texas today. But an expected crest on the Trinity at Dallas failed to materialize.

Police ordered some 2,500 persons evacuated from South Dallas Wednesday night, but all but a few dozen families refused to move.

The Trinity hit 33.7 feet this morning and continued to rise slowly. That was 3.7 feet above flood stage but well below the major flood stage of 38 feet.

Schools were closed in several east Texas areas and some operators abandoned their oil wells.

The mayor at Atlanta, Tex., M. P. Ellis, declared his east Texas town a disaster area. He said he did it as a precautionary measure.

Father Finds Child's Body

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP)—James Goble, a storekeeper whose three children drowned in the nation's worst school bus accident, personally recovered the body of his third child Wednesday.

Goble pulled the body of 12-year-old James Edward from the Big Sandy River near the fatal scene.

One body is still missing.

Eye Satellite Not Regarded New Weapon

Quarles Explains Why No Objection To Soviet Sphere

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Secretary Donald A. Quarles said today the Defense Department does not regard as a weapon a seeing-eye satellite that could spot objects on the earth's surface.

Quarles said this in an interview in explaining why he told the House Space Committee Wednesday the Pentagon would not object to a Soviet reconnaissance satellite.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) suggested that Quarles took this position because Quarles expects the United States to get reconnaissance satellites orbiting the earth before the Soviet Union does. Quarles did not comment on that.

The committee has heard that a man looking through a small telescope from a satellite 500 miles up could spot earth objects less than two feet in size.

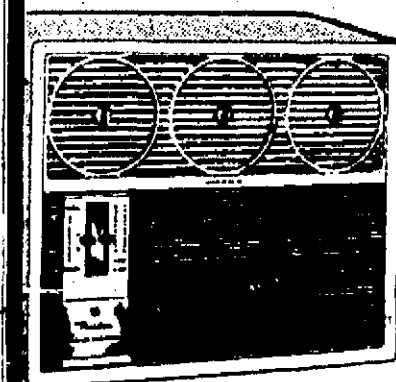

Some fears have been voiced by the military too that in the absence of an international agreement the United States would have to try to shoot down foreign satellites because it would not know whether they were dangerous.

Registration Charge Faces SRC Officials

Underwood Given Affidavits From Clay County Five

CHARLESTON (AP)—Gov. Underwood had before him today five affidavits taken from Clay County welfare clients which, Atty. Gen. W. W. Barron insisted, proved the use of political pressure by the Republican state administration.

Fred H. Caplan and W. Bernard Smith, assistant attorneys general, took the affidavits which, in each case, outlined efforts on the part of State Road Commission employees to force those on relief to change political parties.

In handing the affidavits to Underwood, Barron insisted that they conclusively showed the use of pressure by employees of the administration upon persons receiving Department of Public Assistance help.

Employees Fired

The new disclosures by Barron came a day after Raleigh County Prosecutor Anthony J. Sparacino insisted that Pinecrest Sanitarium employees at Beckley were being fired for refusing to change their party registrations.

That was followed by a statement from Institutions Commissioner Harold E. Neely labeling the charge partisan politics on the part of Sparacino and absolving Pinecrest supervisory personnel of any blame.

Sparacino had made five affidavits public Tuesday from residents of Beckley and vicinity, all of them ex-Pinecrest employees, who swore that they had been told their jobs hinged on a willingness to change political affiliations.

The five named Curley Allen, laundry supervisor at the 630-bed tuberculosis institution, as the man who sought to pressure them. Allen denied the charge and called the five malcontents.

Registration Change

Neely said that only 29 of 276 employees of Pinecrest on Nov. 6, 1956, the date on which Republican Cecil Underwood was elected governor, were Republicans. The figure this week, he added, was 79 Republicans among 258.

"Thus it can readily be seen that the Underwood administration has not participated in wholesale or mass firings," Neely said.

Neely added that a few employees changed their political affiliation from Democrat to Republican last year, but all of them did it voluntarily.

He insisted that the fact that Sparacino issued a public statement on the Pinecrest firings before bringing them to the attention of Pinecrest officials or Neely showed that the prosecutor was more interested in making headlines than in correcting a bad situation.

Superiors Cited

The affidavits from Clay County credited political threats and pressure tactics to assistant county road supervisor Ed Hyer and to Hyer's chief, Orval Schoonover, along with a few SRC subordinates.

Caplan said that, in each case, the affidavit was read to the individual swearing to it twice before it was notarized. He added that the five cases "represent a pattern rather than an exception to the rule."

Barron said the situation in Clay County has its parallel in at least three or four others, based on what he called reliable information from the other areas.

One affidavit, from Edward Frances Murphy of Hallburg, quoted Hyer that he would grade Murphy's private road and prove other favors as part of the deal involving a switch in political allegiance.

Underwood told Barron last week that he would personally take action to stop such activity—either within state institutions or among DPA clients — "if I felt this sort of thing was occurring anywhere in the state."

Cheyenne Mayor Ducks The Issue

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—On page 10 of a Cheyenne newspaper appeared a letter to the editor wondering what happened to the flock of 27 ducks which stayed in a lake at the city park all summer.

On page 12, under the heading "Today's Recipe," was the selection "Danish Wild Duck with Sour Cream," the Mayor's Favorite," contributed by Mrs. Val S. Christensen, the mayor's wife.

The mayor was quick to explain. He said the ducks had been moved to warmer quarters for the winter — not to the Christensen dinner table.

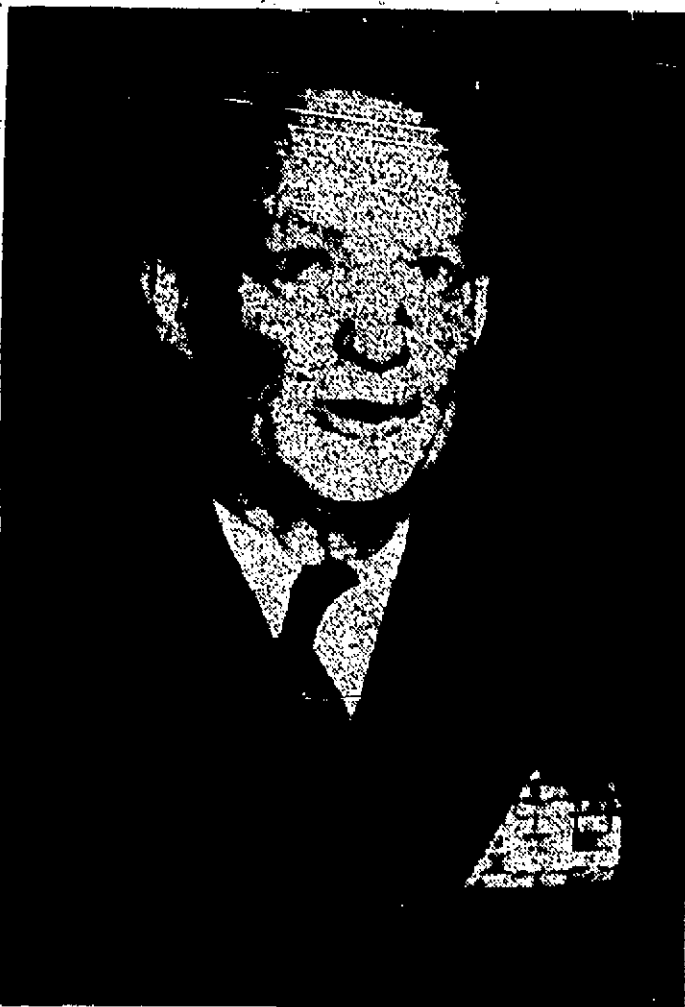

Many Potatoes Worth Cooking

CHICAGO (INS)—You have a bigger variety of potatoes than ever, Madame.

Jewel Graham, extension nutritionist at Iowa State College, offers this cooking guide: Long russet potatoes, frequently called "Idaho" potatoes, are best for baking, mashing or French frying.

But other varieties, usually round in shape and either white or red in color, are good for American frying, boiling, oven browning, mashing. They are especially good for scalloped potato dishes and potato salads because they have a higher sugar content and hold together better than the russets, according to Miss Graham.

Laurel Race Course Paid Its Lobbyist $1,000

BALTIMORE (AP)—Laurel Race Course paid its lobbyist $1,000 for his work on behalf of legislation to close Pimlico and enable it to transfer its operations to Laurel, the attorney general's office said yesterday.

E. Clinton Bamberger Jr., assistant attorney general said the Secretary of State's office had informed him the fee was paid to Charles McC. Mathias Jr., Frederick attorney.

The State Law Department had expressed an interest in the situation after Maryland State Fair, Inc., operator of Laurel, had failed to report its lobbying expenses for the 1958 Legislature by the April 20 deadline.

Bamberger said his office felt that, with the report now in, "the matter is closed."

Reports on all 79 of the other legislative agents had been submitted earlier.

Couple Sues Utility Firms For $150,000

Lightning Struck Phone Line While Woman Using Device

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Milford, Del., couple has filed a $150,000 damage suit in U. S. District Court for injuries they said were sustained when lightning struck the telephone line outside their house while the wife was making a call.

Charles G. Miller asked $50,000 damages. His wife, Trudy K. Miller, is seeking $100,000 damages in a separate suit.

The Millers, formerly of Salisbury, Md., named the Eastern Shore Service Co. of Maryland and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Maryland as defendants.

Their suits contend that last June 17 Mrs. Miller was making a telephone call to Tennessee when lightning struck the phone line and high tension power line beside her house, causing severe shock and burns.

The utilities were to blame, the suits said, because they had allowed their lines to fall into disrepair and had failed to install lightning arrestors and other adequate safety devices.

Attorneys for the Millers are W. Edgar Porter, Hilary W. Gans and J. B. Randol Carroll.

Small Stairway Needs Handrail

AMES, Iowa (INS)—If you have a stairway with more than three steps, it should have a handrail.

Or so advises Norval Wardle, extension safety specialist at Iowa State College. Wardle says handrails should be installed on both sides of open stairs although one will do for a closed stairway.

Other safety tips: "Don't place a loose rug at the top or bottom of a stairway. Have 'three-way' light switches at both top and bottom of stairs.

Wardle says both stairways and handrails should be solid. Avoid patching stairs; repair a complete step. A weak handrail can be dangerous, he warned, if someone leans against it.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Lost Land

THIS WEEKEND you may hop into the car to take the family for an early spin in the country, or get out into the garden while your wife does spring cleaning, or get the screens in shape. While you're doing that, 200,000 individuals will have been added to the population of the world. For the current rate of increase — births over deaths — is somewhat more than 100,000 a day. In the past ten years, 400 million additional inhabitants have swollen the earth's numbers. In the decade ahead, at least that many more will be added to the global total.

WE HEAR MUCH about the demands these rising numbers are making and will make upon the world's resources of food and other materials basic to living. Despite many efforts to minimize this problem, agreement is widespread that it is a grave one. One part of it gets little attention. This is the fact that the great increase in population, because it is occurring largely in the cities, is actually tending to snuff out presently available resources in areas fringing the big urban centers. This year's new suburban development was last year's potato patch, or orange grove, or wheat field. Cities cannot grow in upon themselves. They must expand. As they spread, they eat up valuable farm land which now helps support the existing population. Once clustered with houses, shopping centers, roads and all the other marks of the urban spread, this land is lost forever as a source of food or fiber. Thousands upon thousands of acres vanish each year beneath stone and brick and steel.

MEASURED against the total space on earth, the losses of open land to the cities are not great. But the globe has countless millions of acres useless for the sustaining of man. On the other hand, most of the urban growth is set amid regions of lush agricultural development, where every acre lost is a shrinking of the world's food base. We evidently can't halt the headlong increase of population here and everywhere. But it's far past the time when we should be thinking soberly and continuously—and demanding that our statesmen do the same—about the problems this growth brings in its train. We ought to be reminded every time we see another acre of food-bearing soil churned up by the builder's bulldozer.

Sandwiches

THE CRISIS HAS passed. The great decision has been made. The forces of Spartan simplicity have won. Hereafter, as "economy" passengers fly the broad Atlantic airlines, a sandwich is to be a sandwich, no more. The dilemma developed when various foreign flag lines, whose bid to the American travel market is the "little extras" they offer, began putting a lot of them on top of the bread. Since rules for the new economy class called simply for sandwiches, U. S. international lines made solemn protest. In America a sandwich is a thing you grab, a thing with a good deal of bread showing. They carried the day. The economy meal can't look like a cold plate. Under the newly interpreted rules: "A substantial and visible part of each unit is to consist of bread, roll or similar bread-like material. . . . Each unit is to be simple, that is, uncomplicated, unadorned." There, that's plain enough, isn't it? Maybe it's too plain.

Toward Smaller Cars

THE PRESIDENT of a large auto manufacturing concern told a congressional committee that in his opinion the public's taste would continue to run in the direction of even larger and higher powered automobiles. But if the size of the automobile engine is any criterion, the trend may be in the opposite direction. Statistics show that 22 per cent of all the automobiles produced so far this year have been of the six-cylinder variety. Last year they accounted for only 17 per cent of the total. This fact, together with evidence that the smaller European car is selling very well in this country, could mean that the American car buyer's taste is being misinterpreted by Detroit. There are good reasons for hoping this is the case. Neither street nor garage space is unlimited.

Labor Finds Itself In Debt To Johnson

WASHINGTON — A very unusual prospect prevails with respect to the Douglas-Kennedy-Ives bill which has been the object of such extraordinary maneuvering in the Senate. It is that everybody stands to profit from the net results, including the public.

The bill, which calls for full disclosure of the finances of health, welfare and pension benefit plans, is long overdue. Approving it now is like voting for an early spring.

The debate has forced labor to climb down from its no-more-legislation perch. AFL-CIO leaders are now formally pledged to cooperate with Congress on more measures to deal with other specific abuses. They have only done themselves a favor, but apparently they had to be put up against guns to perceive it.

SENATOR William F. Knowland, who forced the issue, must get a large measure of credit for whatever is finally achieved. Repeatedly he won ironclad commitments from his rival aspirants for the Presidency on the Democratic side: Majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Senator John F. Kennedy.

Paradoxically, he also did both various considerable favors.

Labor has never cared for Johnson; now it is in his debt for holding the ramparts against a heavy fire of amendments that had not been carefully worked over in committee. The Texan even achieved the minor miracle of putting Senator Harry E. Byrd of Virginia in bed with labor for a tiny catnap on the proposition that the Senate Labor Committee's jurisdiction should not be invaded.

COMPELLED for the first time in his five and a half years in the Senate to take a fighting stance which might lose him important voter support, Senator Kennedy in the floor debate had the air of a much misunderstood man. Actually he is lucky, too. What the ambitious young Democrat is getting is a second chance to show leadership. The bulldog persistence of Knowland forced AFL-CIO President George Meany, who has also sneered at Kennedy as a false friend, to think again. Business must perceive that it will get the reforms it clamors for from such moderates as Kennedy or none at all.

It is possible, too, that Knowland helped himself among independents both by the courage he showed and by sponsoring sense-making labor moves. In the current hassle he wisely stayed away from the right-to-work issue he raised in his campaign to be Governor of California.

THE FINAL hours of this Senate struggle lacked drama, for the battle lines had long since been clearly marked and held firm. Yet the Knowland-Kennedy confrontation in it remained a fascinating study.

The two scions of famous political-financial dynasties — one from the West Coast and one from the East — could not be more different, even physically. Knowland, as massive in build as in his convictions, incurred his repeated defeats with utter serenity. Kennedy, slim and crew-cut, tugged at his tie, twisted his hands and out of his emotional tension produced such howlers as "But we are not voting on the merits of the Senator's amendments."

Knowland, of course, chose his course long ago; he is often wrong but never in doubt. Kennedy up to now has led a charming political life; he has not etched on the imperishable record a philosophy of government on which it is possible now to judge him.

Job Distress Areas May Finally Get Aid

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A new bill to provide government loan assistance to distress areas with high unemployment rates has just been introduced by Senators Paul Douglas and Frederick G. Payne.

It comes pretty late in the session and it may not have much chance. But it represents the first bipartisan effort to treat the current business recession as an economic issue rather than as a straight political dog fight. So the new bill may gain support when some of the crackpot depression cures have been found wanting and discarded.

Both Senators Douglas and Payne have introduced area redevelopment bills before. Also, the Eisenhower administration has had an area assistance act before Congress for over a year. The new Douglas-Payne bill is supposed to combine the best elements of them all.

On introduction, the new Douglas and Payne bill had 27 sponsors. Eight of them are Republicans. More sponsors are expected. So the bill will have strong backing.

AS A MATTER of hindsight, it is now admitted that passage of distressed area redevelopment legislation a couple of years ago might have relieved or checked the recession.

This is indicated by Department of Labor reports on trends in 149 principal labor market areas. All five of the U. S. areas now showing unemployment above 12 per cent of the labor force have been distress areas for many months.

In the case of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre areas, hit by the drop in hard coal production, it has been a matter of years. Other areas hard hit by high unemployment are Altoona, Providence, Detroit.

In addition to these Class F distress areas with unemployment over 12 per cent, there are 20 Class E areas with unemployment between nine and 12 per cent. All are in the area east of South Bend and north of Knoxville, reflecting declines in textile, automotive and other industrial manufacturing.

Labor Department lists 41 Class D areas with unemployment between six and nine per cent. Only 13 are outside the northeastern industrial areas. They are Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kenosha, Racine, Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Portland, Ore., and Spokane.

ALL CLASS D, E, and F areas would be eligible for assistance under the new Douglas-Payne bill. Rural areas with the largest number and percentage of low income families—not to exceed 300 counties—would also be eligible.

Under the Eisenhower administration bill, areas with eight per cent unemployment for more than two years would be eligible for assistance. But no rural aid is provided.

Available aid would also differ considerably under the Douglas-Payne and Eisenhower administration bills.

The Douglas-Payne bill would make 300 million dollars available for loan to distressed areas. One-third would be for industrial loans, one-third for rural area loans, one-third for state or local government public facility loans. Federal participation would be limited to 65 per cent of the total. It would be administered by Housing and Home Finance Agency.

THE EISENHOWER administration bill would make the program administered by Department of Commerce. It would provide 50 million dollars for industrial area loans, with Federal participation limited to 35 per cent of total cost.

The need for some new form of assistance to distress areas is now said to be shown by the fact that other programs intended to channel government contracts into areas with surplus labor supply haven't worked as well as intended.

A recent Business Week survey shows that stepped-up defense orders haven't been reaching contractors and may not reach them for months or even years. Most of the new defense spending is going for long range research contracts.

Another study by Textile Workers Union and United Auto Workers shows that in the last six months of 1957 only three distress areas got preferential defense contracts.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—Next to feeding elephants, I suppose every young boy in the spring dreams of maybe owning an amusement park some day. It is a kind of extension in mass of feeding elephants.

That job, dear to young male fry at circus time, tends to pall after the fourth pail of water. But the dream of owning an amusement park has vastness and infinite variety. Plus all those free rides you could take if you were the boss.

I WENT TO see an amusement park owner the other afternoon, but he wasn't a little boy. He was a grown man, but he got his foot in the door as a little boy. He was 10 years old when he and a violin-playing older brother, Jack, borrowed $5 here and there, rented a stand at Coney Island and sold shovels and pails to moppets and the guardians of moppets. End of summer: $1,500 profit.

From there a 10-year-old can go anywhere and Irving Rosen-thal went most places. Of course, he had experience. By the time he was 10 he had been working four years. He started as a shoe-shine boy at six. He switched when he was eight years old to wrapping and selling, or vice versa, souvenirs in a shop on Broadway.

The juvenile authorities either never saw him or were unaware. In any case, they didn't clamp down on this young hustler and toss him back into school. And I found something else: that slant on Broadway at eight was the only time he was not his own boss.

"THAT $1,500 from Coney was untold wealth in our family," said Irving, who owns Palisades Park, lock, stock and barrel. "It was the foundation money. It and money growing from it sent Jack on in his violin studies until, at 18, he became concert master of the Cincinnati Symphony."

It put me through New York University and New York Dental School. And it seems now, looking back on it, that we ran into incredible luck. We built a merry-go-round in West Haven, Conn., for example. There already were two others there in Savin Rock Park and they just waited for us to starve to death. But we put in two organs instead of one, hustled some exclusive rights to the day's popular songs, yet. Nathaniel Goldfinger, AFL-CIO economist, said this recession was the most severe in 20 years; he blamed the government.

Frederick Othman

Which Side Of This Bet?

WASHINGTON—On the theory that when economists agree on anything they're probably wrong, it is my pleasure to announce today that the recession is over.

I say this flatly because the slide-rule boys appearing before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress turned out to be so many Gloomy Guses. They could see no sign of business getting better, and I claim that when an economist can't see anything, he's likely to stub his toe on it.

THERE WERE eight of these gentlemen, mostly college professors, sitting there in the old Supreme Court chamber, telling the lawgivers that things are likely to get worse.

Only half-way cheerful one was William F. Butler, vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, who said it was too early to say for sure that the business decline was leveling off, but that he personally believed it was. "Bottoming out" was his phrase.

THE OTHERS sounded like genies with toothaches. To them springtime was a sorry season. Professor Irwin Friend of the University of Pennsylvania said there was as much chance of business bumping along as there was of it beginning to boom again.

Dr. Martin R. Gainsbrugh of the National Industrial Conference Board, New York, said there was no reassuring business news.

So They Say

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Europeans who like to say America has no culture get a quick debate from Beverly Merrill.

"Actually, Europe is dead culturally," she insists. "It is a great schoolhouse, but more is now happening here. We are the new center of Western culture."

Miss Merrill, dark-eyed and attractive, can approach the subject with some perspective.

At 30 she is sole owner and manager of a phonograph recording firm which for the first time in history is recording in its entirety some of the great forgotten music of the Middle Ages. Her projected 10-album series of medieval melodies has aroused the praise of musicologists throughout the world.

NO REALLY scholarly job of recording music of this period had been attempted before Miss Merrill founded her firm.

"Today it is definitely long, longhair music," she said. "But merely because it is old. The tunes are still fresh and lovely."

"It is mainly religious music, and some was composed to be performed in certain cathedrals or chapels."

One of her prizes is the first known English love song, "Bird on the Brier."

One of the stanzas reads:

"I'm so happy, bright bird on the brier,

"When I see that gracious lady.

"She is white of limb, lovely, true.

"She is fair, the flower of all."

Wrinkling her own pert nose, Miss Merrill remarked, smilingly:

"It is easy to see that love songs haven't changed much."

THE MUSIC ISN'T simple. An ordinary commercial record of modern music is made in six hours. Miss Merrill's artists rehearse up to two or three months, then spend three evenings to make a recording.

"The farther back most music goes the more difficult it is to perform," she said. "It really tests the talent of the most gifted singers and instrumentalists."

"But what this music has in it is an extraordinary sense of peace. People hear it and feel it."

This may explain why, although most of the people who buy the records are members of the professional or intellectual classes, the appeal is slowly spreading.

"Even the dyed-in-the-wool jazz fans are getting interested," said Miss Merrill, "because this music marks the beginning of improvisation in a jazz sense."

EDITOR'S NOTE: What Hal Boyle reveals in the above column concerning the use of recorded music as a cultural asset brings to mind the fact that there are many persons, still living, who can well remember when the phonograph made its first appearance and was so unusual that a man with one of these new machines could put on an evening's entertainment before an audience of paid customers. The records were scratchy and harsh, the music was not good, but that the human voice or the sounds made by a musical instrument could be mechanically reproduced was a marvel of the times.

Assignment America

NEW YORK—"Looking back," says Cy Leslie, glancing over his shoulder in an automatic check for listening lieutenants, "I guess you could say the Army did me a favor."

Leslie was a sergeant. Philippines. Lonely type.

"Hated the Army. Too organized. I come from Brooklyn, where things aren't. Every time I get a letter from Brooklyn, I think boy, if this thing could only talk. You grow up in Brooklyn, you expect everything to yak."

"So finally one day, I get the big idea. I was in New Guinea by that time and I always say if you don't have an idea in New Guinea, what else have you got?"

HIS IDEA was to manufacture greeting cards that did talk.

He salvaged $1,100 from poker games and sank every cent of it into the business—using his own "special material," which was recorded on small vinyl discs applied to cardboard cards.

"I'll never forget that first message. Tender," Leslie breaks softly into song. "My heart will whistle so—when I meet you under the mistletoe."

Leslie, in 18 months, through such sweet sentiments, converted $1,100 into $325,000. And then he couldn't give his product away. America had got sentimental during World War II, but she quickly returned to normalcy.

"When a beautiful thought like 'To Mother on Mother's Day I send along this love bouquet' stopped selling," recalls Leslie philosophically, "I realized life was returning to normal. Families had got used to one another again. The only novelty in life once more was kids. . . ."

WHICH LED to a new business, of course. Cy began putting out children's records, at 25 cents apiece, as his greeting cards had been. For this success too, he "could thank the Army."

"In the Army you get to thinking that there is a bit too much fear and unpleasantness in the world, and maybe you should drop dead before you spread the feeling any further," he explains.

"As a consequence, I changed the children's stories around a little. Like the three little pigs—instead of boiling the wolf at the end, I have him tied up and sent to jail."

"And in 'Hansel and Gretel,' my version, nobody gets eaten."

LESLIE PAUSES to grimace effectively. "That was the bit that got me as a kid. It wasn't the principle of the thing, it was the bad taste it left in my mouth."

Today the lonely ex-sergeant has a multi-million dollar business to keep him company. He has just pressed his 100-millionth record and is known elegantly as "King of the Kiddie Discs."

There seems to be a moral to this story: Do unto little children as you would have their parents do unto you.

Installation Of Officers Held By VFW Auxiliary

Officers of Henry Hart Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a joint installation ceremony with the Post at the post home, April 26. Mrs. Mary Moore, a past president of the auxiliary, officiated.

The new auxiliary officers are: Mrs. Catherine Wilson, president; Mrs. Charlotte Himes, senior vice president; Mrs. Ina Smith, junior vice president; Mrs. Goldie Martens, chaplain; Mrs. Audrey Crable, conductor; Mrs. Mildred Fike, treasurer; Mrs. Annie Johnson, guard; and Mrs. Helene Bujac, three-year trustee.

The appointed officers are: Mrs. Rosalie Everstine, secretary; Mrs. Violet Karns, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Zellene Norris, historian; Mrs. Chloe Reynolds, musician; and Mrs. Sadie Smith, Mrs. Mable Wade, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Goldie Speis, color bearers.

Mrs. Reynolds, president of the Department of Maryland, VFW Auxiliary, spoke on "Unity" and presented Mrs. Crable, retiring president, with a citation of merit for outstanding work done by the auxiliary on the local drive for Multiple Sclerosis. She also presented Mrs. Crable with her past president's pin and commended her on the fine work which the auxiliary has accomplished under her leadership.

Honor guests were Mayor and Mrs. Roy W. Eves, Mrs. Lillian Zimmerman, Department of Maryland essay chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, Department Community Service chairman; Mrs. Speis, president of District 3 Auxiliaries; Mrs. Grace Cross and Mrs. Grace Bosenberg, past district presidents.

Mrs. Cross, installation chairman, presented gifts to Mrs. Crable, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Speis, retiring after serving four years as secretary.

The hall was decorated with a patriotic motif of red, white and blue. The tables were arranged in a V shape and were centered with arrangements of snapdragons of various shades and other spring flowers. Each honor guest and auxiliary member was presented with a corsage of white carnations tied with the auxiliary colors, blue and gold.

Refreshments were served following the installation by Mrs. Crable and her committee. Dancing to the Tippy Higgins orchestra concluded the evening.

David T. Dawson, Wiley Ford, W. Va., is improving in Memorial Hospital, where he underwent surgery.

Alice Moore Members Talk On Prayer

The Alice Moore Circle of the First Baptist Church met a recent afternoon at the home of Mrs. John I. Vandegrift, 505 Beall Street. The meeting opened with singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer" followed by the scripture lesson by Mrs. A. D. Sherman. Mrs. Barbara Rexroad offered prayer. Mrs. L. H. Carpenter presided over the business session and led the group in repeating the watchwords.

Mrs. J. E. Tritt was in charge of the program and her topic was "Fruits of Faithful Prayer." Testimonies from missionaries were read by the following: Mrs. William Sheally gave the testimony of Lorene Tifford, missionary to Formosa; Mrs. Archie C. Prevatte quoted Evelyn Schwartz, missionary to Indonesia on "Prayer, Your most valuable contribution"; Mrs. Henry Humphreys read where Giles Fort of Southern Rhodesia urges us to pray regularly for the work there "as it is the most valuable contribution one can make"; Mrs. Barbara Rexroad read the testimony of James Belote of Hong Kong; Mrs. John I. Vandegrift, Loyd Moon of Brazil; and Mrs. S. C. Morris, Alta Lee Lovegren of Ajloun, Jordan who says "prayer joins your life to God's redemptive world purpose."

Mrs. Tritt read from Helen Masters of Nigeria "prayer transforms your life into nobler living." Mrs. Carpenter offered prayer for all missionaries. Each member was asked to be much in prayer for the Evangelistic Services which will be held May 18 through 23. Miss Mary Moxley closed with prayer. A social hour followed with the hostess serving refreshments.

QUESTIONED IN DEATH—Dr. Rodrigo L. Sarmiento, 38-year-old, Filipino resident surgeon in a Brooklyn hospital, bows his head as he is questioned in a Brooklyn police station in connection with the fatal stabbing of Margaret Kabak, 33, his nurse girl friend. Dr. Sarmiento surrendered yesterday at the Philippines consulate in New York after being sought since Saturday when Miss Kabak was found in her apartment, stabbed 15 times with a knife. Veteran Local Postal Employees Are Retired

Two veteran employees of the Cumberland Post Office retired upon completion of their work yesterday.

They were Kenneth L. Shaffer, 60, RD 3, Bedford Road, window clerk, and Charles F. Strong, 68, of 613 North Mechanic Street, fireman-laborer.

Certificates of service signed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield were presented them by Thomas F. Conlon Sr., local postmaster.

During a short ceremony at the Post Office attended by employees of all departments, Theodore W. Clark, president of Local 513, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, presented a retirement gift to Shaffer on behalf of fellow employees, and Victor Shaffer, supervisor of custodians, presented Strong with a gift.

On July 1, 1921, Shaffer, who has completed nearly 37 years of continuous service, began working in the Cumberland Post Office as a clerk in the mail room, a position he held for about a decade. Later, he began working at the various windows and upon retiring was handling the registry window business.

Prior to becoming a postal employee, Shaffer taught school for two terms in Londonderry Township, Pa. He graduated from Hyndman High School and later attended Normal School at Mann's Choice, and Gettysburg College.

A member of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, he belongs to Elks Lodge Chapter 86, Patriotic Order of Sons of America. He is a veteran of World War I and is the father of seven children. He considers farming a favorite hobby.

Strong, who started working at the post office in November 1929, has over 28 years of service behind him. He was employed as a janitor when the post office was located in what is now the Public Safety Building. He was transferred to the present location on Pershing Street in 1932.

Operations Safer For Older People

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(INS)—A University of Michigan surgeon says modern surgical advances have made operations for older persons reasonably safe.

Dr. Frederick A. Collier says these advances in recent years have helped make surgery in persons over 70 a "safe bet."

Improved anesthesia. Improved methods of body fluid replacement.

Improved whole blood replacement.

Surgical technical advances. Improved pre and post-operative care.

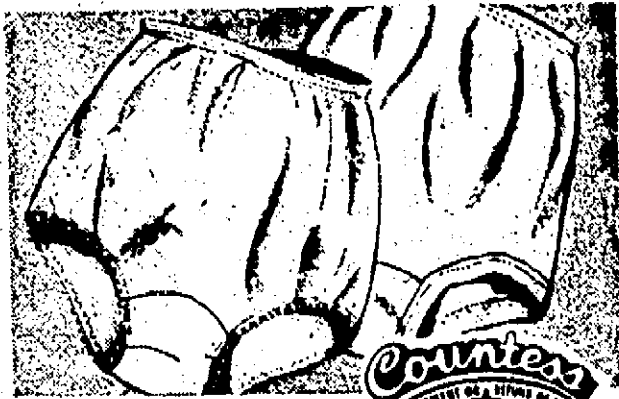

Dr. Collier says his studies of more than 600 operations in persons over 70 showed those between 70 and 79 had the best chance of recovering, although 84 per cent of those over 90 years of age survived surgery and left the hospital in good physical condition.

CENTER OF ATTENTION — Janice Kane, 23, seems to be attracting more attention than the instructor in this class of 301 students at Chicago Medical College. There are 300 men in the class, which perhaps explains why. Janice, from Atlantic Beach, N. Y., is the only woman attending the school. A former model and artist, she's an honor student and first woman member of a national medical fraternity, Phi Lambda Kappa. Janice takes her unique role in stride, although, she remarks, "At times I feel like I have 300 big brothers."

84 Candidates To Be On Primary Ballots

Names of 84 candidates for office will be listed on ballots in the May 20 Allegheny County primary election.

Republican voters in this county will have a choice from among 53 candidates in the primary. Fifteen of them will be nominated for the November 4 general election and seven will be elected to the County Republican State Central Committee.

Democratic voters will have an opportunity to choose from among 31 candidates. Seven of them will be nominated for the November 4 general election and six will be elected to the Democratic State Central Committee.

On the Republican side there are 16 candidates for the six nominations for the House of Delegates, 12 for the three nominations for county commissioner and 14 for the GOP state central committee, of whom seven will be elected.

The candidates: For House of Delegates — Irvin Charles Alexander, C. William H. Baer, Lee C. Barnett Jr., Thomas N. Berry, Harold D. Brooks, Noel Speir Cook, Fred B. Driscoll, Robert Lee Jeffrey, Estel C. Kelley, Walter E. Mueller Sr., Jack I. Mullen, Lester B. Reed, John M. Robb, Jonathan Sleeman, Harry T. Warnick and David J. Williams. Messrs. Berry, Cook, Driscoll, Reed and Williams are incumbents.

For county commissioners — Glenn K. Davis, Harold L. Drew, Simeon W. Green, Charles N. Hill, Robert C. Hohing, Lee Marple, Okey E. Michael, James Orr, Louis V. Shinnamon, John J. Smith, W. A. Strother and William A. Wilson. Messrs. Orr and Wilson are incumbents.

For GOP state central committee — William Bantz, Jerry G. Clise, Thomas Elias, Edward T. Evans Jr., Woodrow W. Gurley, Victor M. Hebb, Edgar M. Lewis, J. Irvin Martin, Leonard D. Miller, J. Kenneth Morgan, Harry E. Shobe, Melvin S. Sloan, Ernest B. Treat and Thomas W. Williams. Messrs. Elias, Hebb, Lewis, Martin, Sloan and Treat are incumbents.

The only other multiple contest on the Republican ticket is for judges of the Orphans Court, where five men are vying for the three nominations. The candidates are William C. Abbott, James G. Hadley, James O. Marshall, Hugh Stevenson and J. French VanMeter. Messrs. Abbott, Stevenson and VanMeter are the incumbents.

The first contest on the GOP ballot is a nominal one in which U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg has taken opposition from Henry J. Laque Jr. of Anne Arundel County.

Two other Republican primary fights pit George R. Hughes Jr. and Charles M. Sec, the incumbent, for state senator, and Edward R. Muir, the incumbent, and William E. Orr Jr. for sheriff.

On the Democratic ballot there are three state-wide contests and a five-way fight for the nomination for Congressman from the Sixth Congressional District.

For U. S. senator there are seven Democrats in the race. They are James Bruce, Carroll County; Thomas D'Alessandro Jr., Baltimore City; Andrew J. Eastler, Baltimore City; William F. Fader Jr., Montgomery County; Clarence D. Long, Baltimore County; George P. Mahoney, Baltimore County, and Alden A. Potter, Montgomery County.

For governor, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes has taken opposition for the Democratic nomination from three men, one of whom tried too late to withdraw from the race. Those listed on the ballot for Governor are Morgan L. Annimo, Baltimore City; Bruce S. Campbell, Baltimore County, who attempted too late to withdraw; Joseph A. Phillips, Baltimore City, and Mr. Tawes, who is from Somerset County.

Involved in the Democratic fight for nomination for Congress are John R. Foley, David A. Heller, James H. Mann and Richard Henry Speidel, all of Montgomery County, and Edward D. Storm, Frederick County.

The ballot also lists three candidates for state comptroller, five for the three nominations for county commissioners and seven for the six positions on the Democratic State Central Committee.

For state comptroller—Louis L. Goldstein, Calvert County; Sidney London, Baltimore City, and Joseph L. Manning, Baltimore City.

For county commissioners — William J. Brude, Francis J. Duckworth, John Tucker Mason, John J. Rowan and James P. Russell.

For Demo State Central Committee—Thomas B. Finan, John R. Kelly, William P. Kelly, C. William McDermott, Alex E. Patton, Edward J. Ryan and F. Allan Weatherholt. Messrs. Finan, both Kellys, McDermott and Weatherholt are incumbents.

Total Wedding Licenses Up

The marriage license "recession" in Allegany County came to an end in April as 237 licenses were issued in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, some six more than the 231 in April 1957.

The 2.2 per cent increase last month over the corresponding month of 1957 marked the first time this year that an increase has been recorded.

In the first four months of 1958, Mrs. Phyllis Scarlett, marriage license clerk at the Court House, has issued 742 marriage licenses compared with 819 in the first third of 1957.

Discuss Youth Problems

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland court officials who work with juveniles gathered here today to discuss common problems which affect their everyday jobs and brush up on new techniques.

The occasion was the second annual Institute for Probation Officers, an outgrowth of the Governor's Conference on Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency.

The Institute leader is John A. Wallace, director of probation for the adult and youth division of the Baltimore Supreme Bench. The meeting continues tomorrow.

Sponsoring this year's session are the National Probation and Parole Assn., the State Department of Public Welfare's division of consultant and prevention services, and the Maryland Probation, Parole and Correction Assn.

Dartmouth College's Museum in Hanover, N. H., is believed to be the oldest in the United States. In 1798 the museum caught fire and all students and professors were calling out to "save the library." But, the then president of Dartmouth was calling out to save the stuffed zebra in the Natural History section.

U. S. Releases Suez Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. will release tomorrow Egyptian Government and Suez Canal Company funds that were frozen when Egypt nationalized the firm in July 1956.

The Treasury said today that the action was taken on advice of the State Department.

It came shortly after representatives of the newly-formed United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria and the canal company reached a tentative agreement in Rome on payments to shareholders.

Trio Seeks Election

CHARLESTON (AP) — A three-way contest for the Democratic nomination for the State Senate from the 12th District developed today with the filing of former Sen. Henry J. McKinley of Elkins as a candidate.

McKinley, a mortician who served two terms in the Senate from 1946 to 1954, entered the Democratic race against incumbent Sen. John D. Chenoweth of Elkins and William M. Kidd of Sutton, both of whom had filed earlier.

There is no Republican candidate so far in the 12th District, which consists of Braxton, Nicholas, Pendleton, Pocahontas, Randolph and Webster counties.

Dixie Inn Beer

License Suspended

West Virginia Beer Commissioner Roy D. Platt announced yesterday at Charleston that the license of Orland Eugene Braford, Dixie Inn, RD 1, Ridgeley, has been suspended for 30 days. Reason given was for selling beer to persons under the age of 18.

The suspensions begin Saturday midnight and continue for the next 30 days.

Fraud Costs Break Even

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Department of Unemployment Security spends about $100,000 a year to recover about $100,000 paid out by mistake or obtained by fraud. The department said it recovered $95,504 last year, including $34,495 which was obtained by fraud. In 1956, it said it got back $113,169 of which $43,064 was obtained fraudulently.

During the past two years, 322 persons were convicted of fraud. The department figures the annual $100,000 expenditure is worthwhile because the program of detection and recovery is a warning and deterrent to those who might be tempted to defraud the fund.

HONORED — For the first time a woman, Mrs. Louise Lake, a polio victim, has been awarded the President's Trophy as "The Handicapped American of the year." Mrs. Lake, a physical therapist at the Latter Day Saints Hospital, Salt Lake City, Utah, will accept the coveted honor from President Eisenhower in Washington on May 8. The award is made annually to the handicapped person who has made the greatest contribution to the rehabilitation of physically impaired persons.

The main street of Haddonfield, N.J., is called "Ye King's Highway." It was so named by King George of England in 1681.

SRC Leaders Enthused On Radio Hookup

Authorize Hiring Consultant To Plan Communication Link

BALTIMORE (AP)—The three State Roads Commissioners are enthusiastic about a radio network system which would blanket the entire state.

The commission already has authorized the hiring of a radio consultant and asked Chief Engineer Norman M. Pritchett to figure out the total cost of such a system.

The purpose of the network would be to speed up traffic and to help keep tabs on storm conditions.

Pritchett recommended a partial network yesterday which would provide radio coverage within a 50 mile radius of Baltimore, the most heavily traveled area of the state.

A partial system of 20 permanent stations and 150 mobile units would cost an estimated $190,300. The Maryland Civil Defense agency would foot about $70,820 of the cost and the SRC the rest.

Frank P. Scrivener, maintenance engineer of the commission, said if early approval can be obtained from the commission, it may be possible to put the radio network into operation by next fall.

In other action yesterday, the SRC awarded a $675,187 contract to E. D. Plummer & Sons of Chambersburg, Pa., to construct embankment and retaining walls along the Pennsylvania and Western Maryland railway right of ways. The distance involved is one mile in Hagerstown.

Spanos Painting Contractors, Inc. of Baltimore was awarded a $25,750 contract for cleaning and repainting of the metal structures on a bridge over the Potomac and a bridge carrying the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railway tracks over U. S. 40 and Tonoloway Creek at Hancock. The state's estimate of the work was 145 per cent higher than the Spanos bid.

University-Owned

Columbia University, which receives an annual rental of nearly $4,000,000, owns the land upon which is located Rockefeller Center in New York City. The university will gain complete control over the center in 2069, when the lease with options for renewal runs out.

NOT FAR AWAY — Toothless Jim Riddle started his Sigma Chi fraternity brothers on a wild goose chase when he reported his four-tooth bridge was missing. A search of the fraternity house at Denver (Colo.) University failed to turn up the bridge—and then Jim got an idea. It didn't take the X-ray technician long to prove Jim's idea was right—he had swallowed the teeth.

High Court Orders Sale

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals has decided that a Montgomery County couple must carry out a contract for sale of 80 acres of land near Germantown.

The ruling yesterday reversed a Montgomery County Circuit Court decree which denied a suit by N. Meyer Baker for specific performance of the contract by Mr. and Mrs. William V. Adawson.

The lower court said the contract was too indefinite and uncertain particularly with regard to what portion of the entire tract was to be retained by the Dawsons.

But the appellate judges found the agreement would "present no difficult problem to a surveyor to locate precisely the bounds of the tract to be retained by the sellers."

Rains Hamper Plantings In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP)—The West Virginia Weather and Crop Bulletin reported that rains during the week which ended last Friday hampered planting, preparation of seed beds and fertilizing.

The bulletin said that despite erratic weather the seeding of spring oats has been about three-fourths finished in the state and that some early planted oats have started to come through the ground.

The other small grains reported on, wheat and barley, have been growing rapidly with the stands in good condition.

The bulletin said most pastures have begun to supply some grazing but many farmers still find it necessary to feed roughage. Livestock was reported in good condition. The spraying of fruit trees continued during the week, which saw apples reaching the pink stage and most peach and pear trees in full bloom.

Tobacco beds were reported fair to good, with some plants emerging. Spraying has been started to control diseases.

The bulletin said early gardens were making good growth and planting continued. About three-fourths of the potato crop already had been planted.

The federal and state departments of agriculture, which cooperate to put out the weather-crop bulletin, indicated in another report that feed grains stocks in West Virginia on April 1 were below holdings on the same date last year.

Corn stocks made up the majority of the holdings, representing 80 per cent of the farm-held grains.

The Crop Reporting Service said that corn stocks totaled 2,065,000 bushels, 30 per cent below the year before. Oat stocks totaled 393,000 bushels, up 30,000 bushels for the year. Barley holdings were minor, with only 91,000 bushels on hand.

Encyclopedia Explained

The term "encyclopedia" refers to a circle and by it the Greeks meant instruction in the whole circle of learning, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Warden Service Dog Best Friend

BRANCHBURG, N. J. (AP)—A dog's best friend in over 30 communities around here is the Contented Warden Service.

Started six years ago by David Condit and Michael Kredovski who were fed up with the dog food business, Contented offers dog warden service at a fraction of the cost of retaining a full-time municipal dog catcher. And Contented dogs have it soft.

They are kept until claimed by an owner or an interested dog lover and have free lodging and medical service while they wait.

Jurors Free Illiterate In Assault Case

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—A 27-year-old man, described in testimony as unable to read, write or hold any job but the most menial, has been acquitted of a charge of assault with attempt to rape a married woman.

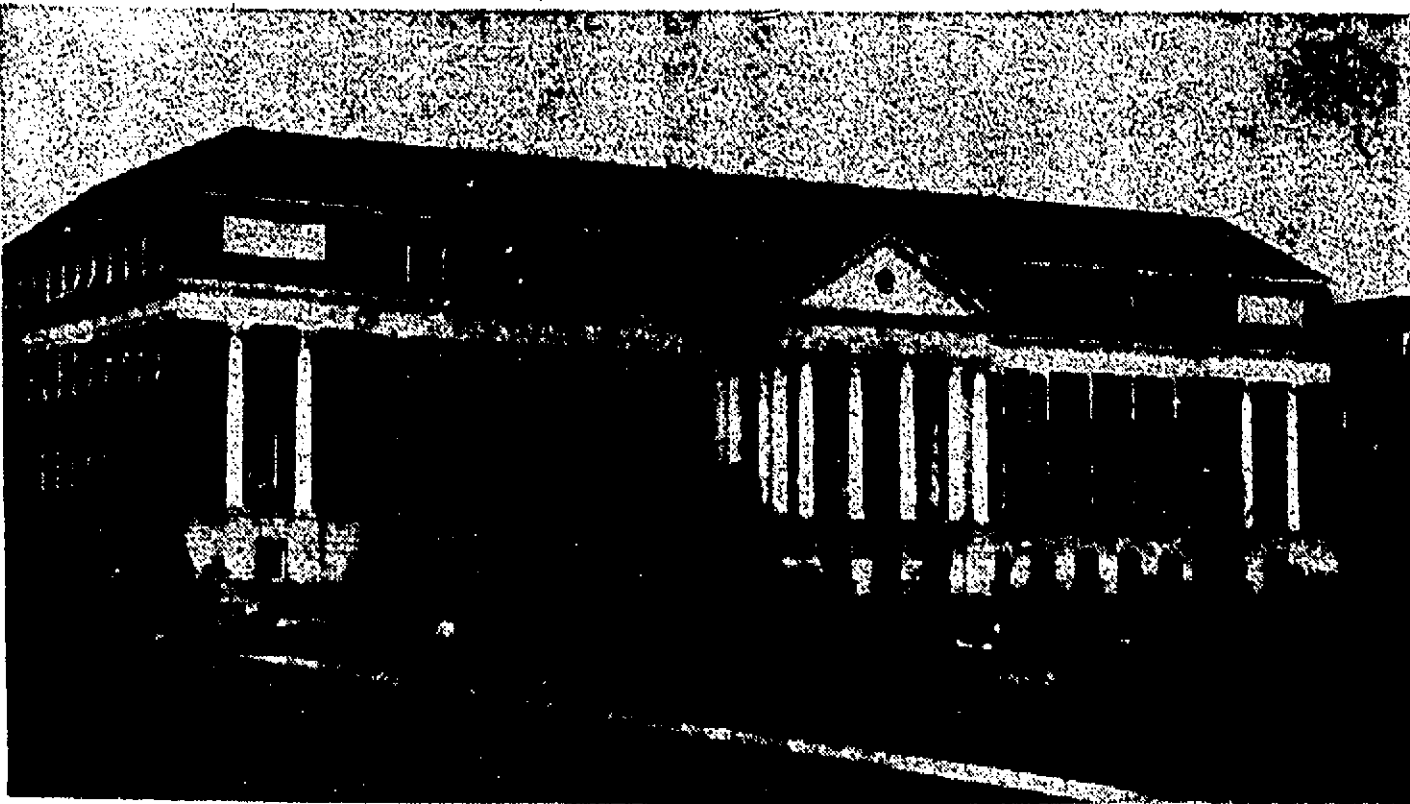

A jury in Washington County Circuit Court returned its verdict of innocent yesterday after deliberating 2½ hours in the trial of Earl R. Repp of nearby Clear Springs.

The testimony about Repp's abilities came from Dr. Jacob Morgenstern, psychiatrist for the state. Dr. Morgenstern also told the court Repp was an epileptic and the physician said he had grave doubts about whether Repp could distinguish right from wrong.

Repp was charged in connection with an alleged attack that happened last December, in an alley in downtown Hagerstown.

The Levant

Levant is the name for the land at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, including the coast region and islands of Asia Minor and Syria. It sometimes is considered to extend east to the Nile Valley, thus including Greece and Egypt.

NEW MARYLAND U. LIBRARY—The new University Library at University of Maryland will be dedicated Saturday at 11 a. m. on the newly landscaped grounds at the west end of the campus mall. Speakers will include Verner W. Clapp, president of the Library Resources Board Inc., Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Charles P. McCormick, chairman of the university Board of Regents; President Wilson H. Elkins, Louis L. Goldstein, president of the State Senate, and Perry Wilkinson, speaker pro tem of the House of Delegates. In the event of rain the ceremony will be held indoors.

New Officers Selected By Teacher Unit

Miss Mary Murray of Mt. Savage, social studies teacher at Allegany High School, was elected president of the Allegany County Teachers Association last night at Fort Hill auditorium.

Robert MacMillan, teacher at Mt. Savage, was chosen vice president; Miss Frances Criss was re-elected secretary. She teaches at John Humbird Elementary School. Miss Patricia Wilson, who teaches at Cresaptown, was elected assistant secretary.

Earl Brain of Frostburg, treasurer since 1948, was re-elected unopposed. He is principal of Beall Elementary and Junior High School.

John Kelly, teacher at Beall High, and Edward Meconi, teacher at Mt. Savage, were elected to the legislative committee for three-year terms.

On the ethics committee, elected from the elementary division, were Myra Taylor and Martha Shaner. Oberlin Chaney was elected from the junior high division and John Helmick from the senior high division.

Plant Honors 11 Employees

Eleven employees of the Amcolle plant were presented gold watches recently in recognition of a quarter century of service with the Celanese Corporation of America.

They are: Dean W. Broadwater, Richard F. Gray and John T. Poland, extrusion manufacturing; John F. Arnold, William P. Thomas, Roy L. Ware and William F. Wimer, cellulose compounds manufacturing.

Peter A. Franklin and Blaine L. McKenzie, of textile manufacturing; Lester W. Norris and Humbert L. Short, engineering. W. E. Crooks, plant manager, presented the watches while the section superintendents marked the occasions by awarding five-star service emblems.

The name of Bruce comes from a town in Normandy, France.

Rocket Fuel Work Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Lankford (D-Md) urged the Defense Department yesterday to award contracts for rocket fuels to the Indian Head Naval powder factory, Charles County, Md., instead of a private firm.

Lankford wrote Secretary of Defense McElroy to ask that solid propellants for the Air Force Minute Man missile be produced at the powder factory instead of by the Aerojet Corp.

Lankford said he understood the Air Force had turned down a proposal to use the factory for experimental production of propellants and that the work would go to Aerojet.

An Air Force spokesman said the contracts involved had not yet been awarded. Award of the work is set for mid-July.

New Claims For Jobless Benefits Rise In State

The Maryland Department of Employment Security announced that the number and dollar amount of benefit checks paid under the unemployment insurance law during the week ending April 26 increased over the previous week.

The number of initial claims for benefits, which reflect the amount of new unemployment dropped for the state as a whole, while rising slightly in Baltimore City.

Unemployed persons were paid 42,718 benefit checks over the state last week, an increase of 1,361 over the 47,357 checks of the previous week. The checks disbursed last week totaled $1,457,526, an increase of $50,345 over the $1,407,181 of the previous week.

Newly unemployed persons filed 5,494 initial claims for benefits at the Department's offices around the state last week, 1,771 less than the 7,265 of the week before last.

Another 712 Maryland claimants last week exhausted the full 26 weeks of benefits to which they are entitled, bringing the April 1 to April 26 total to 2,936, and the cumulative total since last October 1—when it was first possible to exhaust under the amended Maryland U. I. Law—to 14,460.

This rate of exhaustion, which is the ratio of the number of exhaustions to the number of per-

County Blood Bank Is Boon To Residents

Meeting the monthly quota of the Blood Bank sponsored by Allegany County Red Cross, a CUP agency, has meant a saving of over $500,000 in sickness and accident bills for area residents, according to figures released yesterday by Red Cross officials.

The Johnstown Bloodmobile will collect blood at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, next Monday from noon until 6 p. m., and in Lonaconing during the same hours on Tuesday at the VFW Home.

In the six years since the Blood Bank was established here, it was pointed out, 15,000 pints have been collected under the quota system. Given free by donors, the collecting and processing charges were paid by Red Cross, and the blood was then distributed free to those who needed it.

In areas where there is no Blood Bank, the average cost of a pint of blood is $35, plus hospital administration charges.

"Well over $500,000 worth of blood has therefore been distributed free in Allegany County," the Red Cross statement said.

Westernport Council Makes Offer To Purchase Property

SPEAKER — William S. Livingston Jr., former Pennsylvania Secretary of Internal Affairs, will speak at the 53th annual commencement exercises June 6 at 2 p. m. in Compton Hall at Frostburg State Teachers College.

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Okey E. Michael and Council last night authorized the town clerk to inquire of Horace P. Whitworth if he is willing to sell a parcel of land on Front Street, north of Washington Street, for $1,500.

Council had rejected a previous proposal to purchase the property for $3,500. The land was left in a will with certain specifications for its disposal.

Council also proclaimed this week as "National Correct Posture Week" in accordance with a request from a local medical man.

Russell Blubaugh, who resides outside the town limits, requested a permit for water and sewage taps. Action was deferred.

Homemakers
Hold Meeting
At Ellerslie

ELLERSLIE — The Ellerslie Homemakers Club met a recent evening in the EUB Church basement with Mrs. Pearl See, president, presiding. Twenty-seven members answered roll call by giving their views on "My Biggest Storage Headache!"

History of the hymn of the month, "The Strife is O'er, the Battle Done," was read by Mrs. Effie Pierce. Mrs. Lydia Porter gave a report on the project of taking gifts to the Allegany County Home. A demonstration was given by Mrs. Dorothy Lowery on covering a fibreglass lampshade.

Miss Mary Wise, county home demonstration agent, gave a talk on "Storage in Your Home." Plans were made for the Homemakers Club to sponsor a cancer film at a later date. The club also voted to help the 4-H Club with rent for a meeting place.

Mrs. Mac Beals read the new amendment to the by-laws for Blue Cross members who live away.

This year, members will go to the Reformed Church for the Mother's Day service May 11.

Delta Kappa Outing To Be Held Sunday

FROSTBURG — Members of Delta Kappa fraternity of Frostburg State Teachers College will hold their annual spring outing Sunday at Snouse's picnic area near Minke's swimming pool, according to Stanley Wilson, president.

Highlighting the activities will be a softball game in the afternoon. The fraternity has invited their Alumni chapter, Pi Sigma Phi, to the outing.

Four Delta Kappa members, Wilson, Michael Cunningham, Russell Hoyde, and Joseph Webb, recently returned from the spring convocation held in Milwaukee. This was the national business meeting of the fraternity. Donald Elmer of Phi Omicron chapter, Milwaukee, was elected president.

The students were taken on tours to places of interest in Milwaukee and attended a class party. The conference was climaxed by a dinner-dance sponsored by Omicron chapter of Milwaukee.

Delta Kappa held second semester pledging activities. William Brown, Ronald Detwiler, Harold Schriver, Paul Hasenbuehler and Jack Atkinson were chosen as pledges.

Meeting Scheduled
Calantha Temple 3, Pythian Sisters, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Junior Hall, Broadway.

Cleo Henry, most excellent chief, will preside.

A Mother's Day program under the direction of Eva Blake will be presented. Refreshments will be served by Grace Thomas and her committee.

Brief Mention
David W. Ritchie, Lonaconing; Martha Blair, Midland, and Robert James, Lonaconing, were admitted to Miners Hospital as medical patients.

Edith Baker, RD 1, Mt. Savage; Charles Wilson, son of Charles Wilson, Cresaptown, and Susan Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart, Frostburg, were admitted to Miners Hospital as surgical patients.

Broiler Growers

Nurse Director
Address Heard
By Rotary Club

FROSTBURG—Grace E. Ault, director of nurses at the new Western Maryland Hospital for chronic illnesses in Hagerstown, spoke at this week's meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club in the Sunday School room of Zion United Church of Christ.

Miss Ault, a colonel in the reserve of the Nurses Corps of the United States Army, explained how the hospital operated in that it was not a "terminal" institution but every effort is made to rehabilitate its patients so they might return home after treatment.

Miss Ault received her initial work at Peabody College, Washington. She earned her master's degree at the School of Public Health of Johns Hopkins University Hospital. She served as a missionary for the Methodist Church in Korea and with the Nurses Corps of the U. S. Army, and was a former member of General Douglas MacArthur's staff of the Army of Occupation in Japan. She has also served in the World Health Organization of the United Nations.

Program chairman for the evening was Rev. Edward A. Godsey. Two guests were present and John Dunkle Sr. presided over the meeting. The president, John Dunkle Jr., and a number of members were attending the annual district conference in Bedford Springs.

Revival Planned

Frostburg Church of the Nazarene, Charles and Centre Streets, will hold its annual spring revival meeting with Rev. Lillian Wilson, Dayton, Ohio, as the speaker. This will be Mrs. Wilson's third time as a revivalist with the local church. Services will be held each evening, beginning today at 7:45. Local talent from the church will provide music each evening. Rev. Joseph D. Byers is pastor.

Complete Course
Dr. Wayne Hill, principal of Beall High School, pointed out that four teachers have completed a child study course which began last September. Dr. Hill was leader of the group which included Nancy Baker, Roy DeVore and Raymond Pomeroy, Beall High, and John Morgan, Mt. Savage High School.

The theme of the course was "Child Growth and Development" with the purpose being professional growth on the part of the participating teacher.

State Teachers College
Grads To Mark Alumni Day

FROSTBURG—Frostburg State Teachers College graduates of 1908 and 1933 classes will celebrate their gold and silver anniversaries, respectively, at Alumni Day festivities Saturday at the college, beginning at 11 a. m.

The day's activities will commence with the registration of all Alumni in the social room of Lowndes Hall. The Alumni Association has scheduled a luncheon meeting instead of a dinner.

Raymond Poffenberger, of the 1933 graduating class and now of Hagerstown, will serve as toastmaster at the luncheon in the college dining hall.

This year's senior class, led by President William Delaney and Dr. Howard Briggs, advisor, has been invited to the luncheon, and it is at this time that the Class of 1958 will be welcomed into the Alumni Association.

A general business meeting will follow the luncheon. Afterwards class reunions and tours of the campus will be held.

The 1957-58 officers of the Alumni Association are William Faherty, president; Kathryn Laughlin, vice president; Helen P. Cook, treasurer; Rebecca E. Millar, corresponding secretary; Samuel Lisanti, recording secretary; Margaret Hamilton, faculty advisor and Gladys Faherty, editor of Newsletter.

Take Examination

Twenty-eight juniors of Beall High School recently took the national merit scholarship qualifying test given by Jane H. Grindel, counselor.

The examination is a three-hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts. The test included English usage, mathematical usage, social studies, reading, natural sciences reading and word usage.

Test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year. Scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to major in.

will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Inskeep, parents of the bride.

Mrs. Harry Bailey and Harry Patterson are surgical patients at Memorial Hospital.

Shepherd Wins
Regional Honors

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. — W. B. Slonaker, of Hampshire County was named the Region 1 master shepherd for 1957 in the contest to select West Virginia's master shepherd for last year.

The state's master shepherd, announced at the 58th annual meeting of the West Virginia Livestock Association here, was Ross H. Tuckwiler of Greenbrier County. The award was presented by L. S. (Pete) Hartley, manager of agricultural development for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Others honored in Region 1 were Wade S. Mathias, Hampshire County, second place; Hansel Hedrick, Pendleton County, third place, and Oscar A. Thompson, Hampshire County, fourth place. In Region 2, Glen and Jim Crane of Preston County won third place.

Four contestants from the South Branch Valley also received the special "120 and 7" awards. To be eligible, the grower must produce at least 120 pounds of lamb and seven pounds of wool per each ewe bred.

They included W. B. Slonaker, Hampshire County, 150 and 7.6 pounds; Wade S. Mathias, Hampshire County, 148 and 7.0 pounds; Ina N. Combs, Hardy County, 133 and 8.5 pounds, and Oscar A. Thompson, Hampshire County, 127 and 8.3 pounds.

Dial Service
For Hyndman
Area Slated

HYNDMAN — Dial telephone service will be inaugurated Sunday at Charlesville and Hyndman, according to William Hagstrom, Bedford district manager for the United Telephone Company.

The new telephone buildings in both communities are scenes of hurried activity these days, as telephone technicians assemble the intricate parts and wires into dial telephone switching systems.

With the introduction of dial service, telephone users in the communities affected will complete local calls without the aid of an operator. Long distance, information, assistance and other special types of calls will continue to be handled by the Bedford telephone office.

Effective with the change to dial service all Charlesville and Hyndman telephone numbers will be changed. Supplemental directories listing the new metropolitan type (two letter-five digit) telephone numbers will be distributed to telephone customers in the areas served shortly before the change to dial service.

Hagstrom reported that Charlesville has been assigned a neutral name THornwall and Hyndman has been named Victoria in the nationwide telephone numbering plan which has been designed to permit eventual customer dialing of telephone calls on a continent-wide basis.

To familiarize Charlesville and Hyndman telephone users with the use of the new dial telephone service the United Telephone Company, in cooperation with school authorities, has arranged to conduct dialing demonstrations for both pupils and adults in the Charlesville and Hyndman schools.

Highest Tides

Highest tides in the world occur in Nova Scotia's Bay of Fundy, 170-mile-long pocket of ocean northeast of Maine. Tides at the head of the bay may rise and fall as much as 33 feet and involve more than 100 billion tons of water.

FESTIVAL PRINCESS—Ivan C. Diehl, dean of Frostburg State Teachers College, pins a corsage on Miss Sabra Hast, college princess who will be FSTC's representative at the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival this weekend along with her escort, Oliver Wittig, president-elect of the Student Congress. The couple was given a gala send-off yesterday when the college halted all classes and students gathered in front of Lowndes Hall to see them leave for Virginia. The program was sponsored by student organizations of the campus. Miss Hast will ride on an elaborate float in the parade tomorrow with princesses from colleges in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland. Her gown for the parade is floor length and of nylon chiffon in Nile yellow. The mammoth line of march will get underway at 2 p. m. (EST).

Drama Group Will Initiate New Pledges

FROSTBURG — Formal initiation of 12 pledges of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity at Frostburg State Teachers College, will be held in Compton Hall May 12. Miss Dorothy Stone White is adviser to the fraternity.

Freshmen being initiated include William Brown, Sue Ebersole, Camille Robinson, John Shuhart, Donald Turley and Alice Zerbach.

Sophomores are Edward Lester, Ralph Mahaney, Marilyn Hitchcock and Elizabeth Ann Maher. The only junior is Joan Swene. Jack Hill is the only senior to be pledged into the fraternity.

A dinner honoring new members will be held the last part of May at Mountain Playhouse, Jennerstown, Pa., in the form of a theatre-party.

Pledging began April 24. Initiation will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. An examination will be given to pledges May 8.

William Brown is a member of Delta Kappa, the band and Little Theatre. He is a member of the cast of "Claudia." Sue Ebersole is a member of the Maryland and Madrigal Singers, Phi Omicron Delta Sorority and Little Theatre. Jack Hill was a member of Do-Ci-Do Club and belongs to Little Theatre.

Sophomore Class Treasurer Marilyn Hitchcock is a member of Little Theatre, cast of "Claudia," State-to-Date, and serves as corresponding secretary of Phi Omicron Delta Sorority.

Edward Lester is a member of the college dance band, jazz quintet and Xi Xi fraternity. Ralph Mahaney serves as Little Theatre treasurer and Speleology Club president. He is in "Claudia."

Elizabeth Maher serves as corresponding secretary of the Newman Club, secretary of Xi Xi and the Outdoor Club. Joan Swene appeared in "Death Takes A Holiday" and is in "Claudia." She is a cheerleader.

Camille Robinson is a member of Newman Club and is in the cast of "Claudia." John Shuhart played in "Boy with a Cart" and is in Little Theatre.

Donald Turley is a member of the band and of Little Theatre and is freshman class treasurer. Alice Zerbach participates in Little Theatre and will appear in "Claudia."

Cancer Drive Is Conducted

MT. SAVAGE—The cancer fund drive for Mt. Savage, Barreille and Sunnyside was conducted Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, according to Mrs. Marian King, general chairman for this area.

Collecting in the Barreille area were Mrs. Francis Trimble and Mrs. Aretta Cessna; Sunnyside, Mrs. Georgia Chambers. Those who worked Mt. Savage are Mrs. Mary Theresa Brannon, Mrs. Do's Crowe, Mrs. Virginia Crump, Mrs. Mary Louise Arnold, Mrs. Belva Miller, Miss Dorothy Malloy, Mrs. Helen Knepp, Miss Joey Swene, Miss Dorothy Winebrenner, Mrs. Margaret Keel, Miss Robertine Boyle, Mrs. Dorothy Witte, Mrs. Fern Nader, Mrs. Ralph Dickel, Mrs. Elsie Goetz, Mrs. Eula Frankenherry, Mrs. Nellie Hotchkiss and Mrs. Rose Ann Boore.

John Aylor Heads Hardy Classroom Teachers Group

MOOREFIELD — John Aylor, Wardensville, was elected president of the Hardy County Classroom Teachers Association at a recent meeting in Wardensville.

Other officers named were Ervin Emswiler, vice president; Mrs. Beulah Heltzel, secretary and Mrs. Leona Keller, treasurer.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Courtney Pratt, a new constitution was adopted. The chairmen of the following standing committees were given an opportunity to report:

Mrs. Edna Gamble, teacher education and professional standards; Miss Edna Bauserman, future teachers; John Aylor, membership; Ervin Emswiler, legislative; John McNeill, citizenship — moral and spiritual values; Miss Mildred Racey, teacher welfare; Miss Ella Bergdoll, program planning with the Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. Mildred Bowers, NEA centennial celebration — American Education Week; Lacy Cochran, public relations; Lacy Cochran, scrapbook and Mrs. Ada Halterman, retired teachers.

Honoring Mrs. Edith Halterman, who retired from teaching at the Mathias 12-Year School, the CTA presented to the school an anthology of treasurers from the "Youth's Companion." Also in memory of the late Rev. W. G. Kinzie, formerly a teacher at Mathias, the association presented Elizabeth Grey Vining's "Windows For The Crown Prince." Mrs. Ada Halterman made the presentations and Mrs. Lacy Cochran, acting librarian, accepted them for the school. Mrs. Pratt announced that other books honoring teachers would be presented later.

She then reported that the annual spring dinner was held at Mathias. The committee was composed of Mrs. Lola Moyers, Mrs. Sadie Meyer, and Miss Mary Kinney.

Irvin Sherman served as chairman of the nominating committee.

The association stood in recognition of Miss Edna Bauserman who was selected by the Woman's Club of Moorefield as Hardy County's "Teacher of the Year."

Garrett Area Dairy Begins New Project

OAKLAND—The Deep Creek Creamery, Inc., of which Louis Fike of Uniontown is president, recently received its first batch of milk—48,000 pounds—for shipment to Uniontown in two tank cars owned by the company.

The amount of milk to be shipped daily will depend upon the farmers of the area, Fike stated. "We could use twice as much milk," he said.

One hundred and 40 farmers at present bring their milk to the new company, which could mean possibly $6,000 to $7,000 per day for them. The March price for milk was $5.35 per 100, which may decrease some during the summer months, it was pointed out.

The Fike dairy of Uniontown, which took over the former Imperial Ice Cream Company plant in Oakland, has spent or is spending approximately $150,000 for improvements to the plant. This includes storage tanks, coolers and other equipment plus a tank receiving room.

It is equipped to meet U. S. Public Health Service regulations for both Maryland and Pennsylvania. At the plant for the opening day were Fike, Wilbur Higginbotham, farm supervisor for the new plant, of Uniontown; Dr. Arthur Jones, health officer; Harry C. Edwards, Grantsville, member of the House of Delegates; J. B. Dowling, supervisory sanitarian, State Health Department, Cumberland, and H. D. Swartzentruber, Oakland, president of the county commissioners.

Both Dowling and Jones said that Edwards and Swartzentruber had worked many long hours on details of getting the dairy to establish the milk receiving station here. It was estimated that the new industry could mean as much as one and one-half million dollars for dairymen of the county annually. Health Department officials and Mr. Fike praised Edwards and Swartzentruber highly for their untiring efforts.

Fike said there would be three persons employed at the plant at present. Allen Murray is manager.

Mental Health Fund Campaign Starts Sunday

OAKLAND—The Mental Health Association of Garrett County will conduct its annual fund raising campaign next week, beginning Sunday, with a house-to-house solicitation.

Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner and Rev. James Mehning have been named co-chairmen for the county-wide effort, according to Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, chapter president.

Miss Cara Weber, Girl Scout leader and a group of scouts will solicit a collection each night of the week in movie houses.

Chairmen for various sections and branches have been appointed as follows: Mrs. Bernard Guy, Miss Viola Broadwater, Mrs. O. T. Graser, Mrs. Kenneth Layton, Mrs. Thomas Sines, Mrs. Ross Speicher, Mrs. Ruth Emory, Mrs. John Reckner, Mrs. Earl Shank, Mrs. Britten Martin, Mrs. A. L. Biggs, Mrs. Melvin Sister, Mrs. Bruce Groves, Mrs. Carroll Moorehead, Mrs. Ernest Sporelein, Mrs. N. I. Broadwater, Mrs. Paul MacIntire and Miss Elizabeth Clatterbuck.

Funds raised for the mental health program are used to finance programs of treatment, prevention, research and rehabilitation and to educate the public about mental illness.

Revival Set For Baptists At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Rev. James Robert Suttie, pastor of Temple Hills Baptist Church of Washington, will conduct the spring revival at Welsh Memorial Baptist Church here from May 4 through May 9. Services will be held Sunday at 9:45 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and on week nights at 7:30.

Rev. Mr. Suttie, now a chaplain in the Naval Reserve, served with the Marines in the line during World War II. He is a graduate of the University of Louisville, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Since Rev. Mr. Suttie was captain and quarterback on his high school football team and later played the same position on a team in a city league, his message has an appeal to the youth of the day.

Rev. Wesley Harris is pastor of Welsh Memorial Baptist Church.

Route 40 Role Emphasized Here

Association Informed Of SRC Progress Towards Modern Road

Restoration of U. S. Route 40 to the role it once held as the nation's most important highway was the theme of the enthusiastic meeting of the U. S. 40 Association here last night.

Approximately 75 members and guests from Maryland and Pennsylvania attended the session in the Cumberland Brewery social quarters.

One of the highlights of the evening was a telegram from Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, giving optimistic assurance to the association's final goal—a first class highway for Route 40.

SRC Committed

"The Maryland State Roads Commission is committed to a program of complete modernization of U. S. 40, and is in the process now of pushing this work to early completion east of Cumberland."

"U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall is working closely with us in all federal aspects, and is urging Pennsylvania representatives to work with Maryland to the end that the National Pike again take its place as one of the country's best highways."

"What has been done in the past two years should be assurance of the active interest of the Maryland State Roads Commission in the continuing improvement of U. S. 40."

Message Conveyed

John L. Towler, Cumberland, was master of ceremonies, and a message was read from one of the scheduled speakers, J. William Hunt, former Sunday Times editor, who has been one of the prime backers of the Route 40 movement. Hunt was unable to attend.

Hunt's message said: "Most of you understand, of course, that there are two separate prospects for the modernization of Route 40."

"One is to include the road in the Interstate System, in which case it will become a non-access highway and 'out-of-bounds' for most of the business establishments now fronting on its right-of-way."

"The second prospect is for U. S. 40 to be modernized by Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and other states through the various state roads commissions so that accessibility will be maintained."

Anniversary News

"For many years (long before this U. S. 40 Association was formed) I have been advocating in The Cumberland Evening and Sunday Times the continuance of this old National Pike as the premier highway of the United States."

"Since the first contract was let 147 years ago next week (the date was May 8, 1811) the Cumberland Road, now U. S. 40, has been the Main Street of North America. Completed and opened to Wheeling on the Ohio in 1818, this road should be maintained for many, many reasons as the first highway of this nation."

"Over its surface rode and tramped the pioneers who settled the great Ohio country, the middle west. It was a life line never equalled by any other road — and by the great Jehovah (as Ethan Allen swore in the War for Independence) we are not going to stand idly by and see it deteriorate into a second class thoroughfare!"

"I pledge my continued efforts as a writer and booster for the modernization of U. S. 40 and urge your Association to continue its activity along the lines used so effectively in the past few years."

Lauds SRC Efforts

"Progress is being made, indeed, much has been accomplished. We are fortunate to have such a progressive and competent State Roads Commission as we have in Maryland, and no matter how much neglect prevailed in the previous commissions, the present commission in its three years of existence has really accomplished wonders."

Earle R. Poorbaugh, director of the State Department of Public Information, spoke on the activities of the Maryland Travel

Loaded Truck Careens Off Road In Area

Driver Suffers Arm Fracture In Town Hill Crash

A tractor-trailer loaded with a cargo of rice plunged from U. S. Route 40 on the east slope of Town Hill Mountain today and wrecked.

The crash caused injuries to Richard A. Jones, 40, Memphis, Tenn., who was treated at Berkeley Springs War Memorial Hospital for a fractured arm and contusions about the body.

Jones was driving the huge rig down the mountain when his brakes failed. He turned the vehicle towards the side of the road and then leaped to the highway.

The tractor-trailer veered along the berm of the highway for 90 feet and hit a section of guard rails and tore out five of them. Then the machine continued another 40 feet along the berm and finally crashed over an embankment. The tractor-trailer upset and skidded 100 feet before coming to a stop in a timbered section off the road.

The tractor-trailer was demolished. A wrecker was sent to the scene and a path had to be scraped out so that a smaller truck could be driven near the trailer section of the rig in order to unload the rice cargo.

Trooper K. W. Messner said the crash occurred about 7:30 a. m. Jones was headed east when the mishap took place.

Gas Rates Increased Here Today

Customers of the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company start on higher rates today and the first bills showing the increase will be mailed May 12.

The new rates have been approved by the Maryland Public Service Commission to provide C&A an additional $362,000 a year in revenues. C&A originally requested a $465,000 rate increase. The PSC reduced this to $362,000 on April 24, to be effective May 1.

Non-heating customers will pay about 65¢ a month more, district manager C. C. Robbins said. That covers gas used only for cooking, water heating, clothes drying and other household purposes.

The typical heating customer will pay about $1.50 a month more under the new rates, he added.

The first group of bills will cover meters read on May 2 and include one day's gas at the higher rates. Bills mailed later in the month will show a larger proportion of gas at the new rates.

Robbins said the new charge for the first 500 cubic feet or less is $2.15 a month for non-heating customers and $2.95 for heating customers. These amounts are also the net minimum monthly charges.

Net Rates Listed

The higher initial charge is designed to offset part of the costs C&A incurs in supplying greater volumes of gas to heating customers during cold weather, Robbins said.

The new net rates per thousand cubic feet, applicable to all customers—residential, commercial, municipal and industrial—are:

Magistrates Hold Program On Law Day

Officials Stress Fundamental Tenets To County Pupils

The wheels of justice came to a halt in Trial Magistrates Court here this morning while a National Law Day program was being presented by the Allegany County magistrates for students of the county's public and parochial schools.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick, who presided as president of the Trial Magistrates Association of Maryland, informed the students that the first annual observance of National Law Day was proclaimed by President Eisenhower as a means of strengthening dedication to the rule of law as the foundation of free society, and to freshen every American citizen's awareness of the rights and privileges he enjoys by reason of our system of laws and courts.

Represented at the program were officials of the State's Attorney's office, State Police, City Police and Allegany County Bar Association.

Contrast Pointed Out

James A. Avirett, who represented the bar association, pointed out the contrast of Law Day in the United States to the May Day observances in Russia and other portions of the world where rule is by force.

Avirett emphasized that the most important in the United States are the lower courts since they are the ones most frequently used in the administration of justice for citizens. Allegany County, he stated, is fortunate in having its courts staffed by men who are interested in seeing justice administered fairly.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, said the State's Attorney's office is directly linked to the moral health and safety of the county, and that justice is the primary objective of the office he represents.

Teamwork, he continued, is needed between that office, police, probation officers, judges and magistrates to insure that the American policy of government is carried out fairly and with justice. The State's Attorney's office, Mason stated, must be fair and impartial, but unrelenting in the prosecution of crime.

Due Process Of Law

Justice cannot be reached by any mathematical formula, Mason said, adding that such an objective can only be attained by due process of law.

Magistrate Morris Baron informed the students that the American system of laws is based on the heritage of human dignity left by the founders of this country. The United States, he said, is a government of law, not men. The magistrate quoted a statement of former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who said "United States law is an expression of the culture of its people, limited and governed by experience."

A great advantage of the U. S. law system, Baron pointed out, is that the state is directly limited by it, in direct contrast to the divine rights of kings. "Our system of law," he continued, "is based on fact, understanding, tolerance and humanity."

Class Plans Dinner-Dance

The tenth anniversary dinner-dance of the Class of 1948 of Allegany High School will be held July 26 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to Mrs. Alpha P. Reynolds, general chairman.

Mrs. Reynolds said members of the class who have not returned their questionnaires should do so as soon as possible to be included in the booklet being compiled.

Only three members of the class have not been contacted as their addresses are not known. They are James Wright, Thomas Jackson and Dale Fridley. Anyone knowing their addresses should contact Mrs. Reynolds.

The committee chairmen are Mrs. Shirley E. Eisenberger and Donald L. Lilya, decorations; Mrs. Vivian S. Haycock, guests and orchestra; Miss Dolores Rizer, reservations; Mrs. Doris W. Hansotte, dinner; Ronald Sterne, publicity; Allan D. Macy and R. Thomas Hutcheson, program.

Cloudy, Warmer Weather Seen

The weather forecast for the Cumberland area calls for a few scattered showers tonight and considerable cloudiness and somewhat warmer tomorrow. There is a chance of a few showers tomorrow.

The overnight temperature will range between 48 and 55 degrees. Early today thermometers registered a low of 38 degrees. Yesterday high was 63 degrees. Frost which had been predicted did not materialize today.

Valentine Retires

Frank Valentine, 322 Reservoir Avenue, has retired from the Western Maryland Railway after 32 years service.

He was a checker at the local WM freight house. The railway presented him with an electric razor and fellow workers gave him a number of other gifts.

compete in the Mrs. America contest as Mrs. Maryland. Bidding goodbye are Guy Liller of the C&A Gas Company sponsors, and Mrs. Edward Mullin Jr., president of the Cumberland Jaycees.

Local Woman Flying To Florida Event

Mrs. Colleen Lapp, who was named "Mrs. Maryland" in the contest several weeks ago in which top Maryland homemakers took part, flew from Pittsburgh to Florida today to take part in the national finals at Fort Lauderdale.

She was accompanied by her husband, Raymond Lapp, who is a plumbing contractor. Mrs. Lapp is a registered nurse and a graduate of the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Last night the couple left here via the B&O Railroad for Pittsburgh where they stayed overnight. Early today, a motorcade took Mrs. Lapp and the "Mrs. West Virginia" and "Mrs. Pennsylvania" winners to the Pittsburgh Airport where they embarked for Florida.

Guy Liller, district promotion manager for the C&A Gas Company, which sponsored the contest, bid the couple farewell at the Queen City Station. Also in the party which gave a send off to the couple was Mrs. Edward Mullin Jr., president of the Cumberland Jaycees, the organization which sponsored Mrs. Lapp in the local and state finals.

Mrs. Lapp has blue eyes and blonde hair. She is the mother of two daughters.

Mrs. America contestants, the cream of this nation's crop of homemakers, are as varied in their individual beauty and ideas as Maine from California.

Just take a look at the statistics on the finalists who will vie for the 1958 Mrs. America crown next week.

In the height department, Mrs. Libby Rogers of South Dakota towers over her 48 competitors at five feet 10. The smallest finalist is five feet, one Mrs. June Murrell, who ironically hails from giant-sized Texas.

As for weight, Mrs. America contestants come in all sizes. The heaviest is Mrs. Mississippi, Mrs. Marsha M. Mathis, who gave her weight at 150 pounds. The lightest is 105-pound Mrs. Polly Sue Stefens of Oregon.

The oldest member of the group is Mrs. West Virginia at 42. She is Mrs. H. Paige Bell, wife of a Parkersburg attorney. The youngest is 22-year-old Mrs. Maine. The average age is 30.

Ninety per cent of the finalists admitted that they have spanked their children at one time or another.

SS. Peter, Paul and Has Evening Mass

A 6 p. m. mass will be held tomorrow in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, the first of a series of first Friday masses, Rev. Marius J. Elsener, OFM, Cap., pastor, announces.

Permission for the evening masses was given by the Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, archbishop of Baltimore.

Truck Group Names Heads

Robert F. Moore, manager of the Central Trucking Division, Celanese Corporation of America, was elected first vice president of the Western Maryland Chapter of the Maryland Motor Truck Association at a dinner meeting recently at the Tortuga Restaurant in Hagerstown.

Other officers are James R. Hahn, New Market, of Hahn Petroleum Carriers, president; J. R. Shingleton, Hagerstown Motor Express Company, second vice president; Maurice R. Domenici, Hagerstown, of Domenici Tire Company.

The new officers will be installed May 20 at a meeting in Cumberland.

The association voted to purchase a driver training unit to be used at Frederick High School in conjunction with the school's driver-training program. Similar units were bought for schools in Cumberland, Oakland and Hagerstown.

Attending the meeting were Lew W. Higgins, president of the Maryland Motor Truck Association, and Thomas E. Wideman, general manager of the association.

Cloud Layer Prevents Bad Area Frost

HANCOCK, Md. (AP) — The welcomed arrival of a cloud layer as orchardists were firing up smudgepots prevented a freeze of the Western Maryland peach and apple crop last night.

Ben Rogers, horticulturist at the University of Maryland laboratory here, said the lowest temperature reported last night was 33, one degree above freezing.

A check of the apple and peach orchards in the area showed no frost damage—thanks to the protective cloud layer, Rogers said. But he said orchardists are still on their guard against an overnight temperature drop. In 1956, heavy damage was done Hancock area orchards by frost-producing temperatures of 28 degrees as late as May 17 and May 25. And last year, Rogers said, three successive nights of freezing temperatures with frost, caused damage in May.

Zoning Rules Effective In District 29

Board Enacts Set Of Regulations After Hearing

District 29 today came under zoning regulations enacted by the LaVale Zoning Board after a public hearing in the LaVale Fire Hall last night.

All of the district is placed into various zoning categories except for the area proposed by the board for the only Commercial B zone.

That covers the bottom land between Long and the district line on the north by Braddock Run and the south by Route 40.

This zone will be reconsidered after the board was announced last night after considerable opposition to the proposal was voiced by several individuals residing along National Highway.

Restrictions Listed

Commercial B zoning would allow only the lightest of manufacturing plants that emit no noxious fumes, odors, noise, etc., and where operations would be limited to certain hours in the day.

At one end of the proposed zone is the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, Tri-State Roofing, and further eastward, Maryland Mills. At the east end is Super Concrete Company's block plant.

Chief spokesmen against the proposal were Alfred H. Benna, Orville B. Boughton and Robert B. Macbeth, who want the section along the Western Maryland Railway tracks near their homes classed as Commercial A, which permits only certain restricted business operations.

Petition Filed

Ordered filed with the board's records was a petition containing the names of 78 residents who were against the Commercial B zone proposal.

The board emphasized that regulations as adopted last night will allow no more junkyards in District 29.

Building permits must be taken out with the zoning board and the cost is $2 for each $1,000 of the declared estimated cost of construction.

The board established by law in 1957 to set up zoning regulations has operated without any funds since last summer, and the only income can come from building permit fees.

Wellsburg School PTA Elects Tonight

Officers will be elected by the Wellsburg School Parent Teacher Association at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m.

The program will feature "Good Neighbor Night" and roll call will be on the question "By What Examples Do You Set for Your Children in Learning to Live Together."

Fire Extinguished

The East Side Fire Company was called to the intersection of Park and Williams streets Tuesday to extinguish a grass fire on B&O property. No damage was reported.

282 Valid Signatures On Westernport Petition

The task of checking petition signatures for a referendum on a proposed amendment to the Town of Westernport charter ended late last night with results showing 282 valid voters.

Of 443 names checked, 161 residents were not registered on the registration books.

Filed earlier this week, the petition calls for a referendum on an amendment unanimously adopted by the town council. The amendment would enable the community to participate in a waste treatment program planned in the Tri-Towns.

Names of the petition were checked against the town registration list by Horace P. Whit-

Senate Race Continues At Torrid Pace

D'Alesandro Hits At Mahoney At Rally In Prince Georges

By The Associated Press

George P. Mahoney set out on a hand-shaking tour of Frederick and Anne Arundel counties today with kind words for Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, the harmony candidate for governor.

At the same time, Tawes was vowing complete loyalty to his running mate, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Mahoney's opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

D'Alesandro delivered a fiery attack on Mahoney last night at Oxon Hill in Prince Georges County before 500 party faithful. Today he and other harmony candidates moved on to Montgomery County.

Mahoney's headquarters said yesterday the Baltimore County contractor was "very impressed" by the popularity of Tawes among voters in Baltimore City and its environs.

Apparently referring to D'Alesandro, the statement attributed to Mahoney said:

"There seems to be some sort of propaganda afoot to belittle Mr. Tawes by spreading the notion that he is not as popular as he might be in the city. This is a ridiculous assertion—easily disproved by a look at the record."

This record, according to the statement, showed that Tawes received 132,547 votes in the 1954 election.

Tawes' appearance with Mahoney Tuesday at an industrial plant in Anne Arundel County stirred speculation over prospects of a certain degree of amity between the two candidates.

A spokesman for Tawes said he had accepted the invitation before he and D'Alesandro teamed up. Mahoney made haste to follow up what he obviously considered an advantage.

Speaking of the reception he and Tawes received at the Anne Arundel plant, Mahoney said "I was very impressed by the reception they gave Millard Tawes."

Tawes added to the speculation by remaining silent after the plant tour. Last night, appearing with D'Alesandro at Oxon Hill, he tried to clarify things.

"I am wholeheartedly supporting every member of this team regardless of what any individual may say," he said.

"I am wholeheartedly for Tawes and D'Alesandro for the United States Senate."

D'Alesandro pinpointed his attack on Mahoney, with only a few passing remarks for his other two major opponents, Clarence Long and James Bruce.

He called Mahoney a would-be party wrecker and said:

"He is the man who always loses. He even lost last time (1956) when people in the party said, 'Let's get rid of him—let's elect him.'"

"Now he's trying to tie himself on the tail-end of the kite, saying he's on the Tawes ticket."

"Everyone knows that's not true."

Long campaigned near the harmony candidates in the Washington suburbs, spending the day in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties.

He made a whirlwind tour of shopping centers in the same area yesterday and passed long enough to bait D'Alesandro about failing to show up at political rallies and answer campaign questions.

He described Bruce as a Democratic "heavy fatcat" and discounted Bruce's support from such party elder statesmen as Millard Tydings and former Gov. William Preston Lane.

Bruce took a rest from campaigning today after a day in Talbot County.

At Tilgham, Bruce said he was confident of taking enough counties in the May 20 primary to get at least 34 unit votes.

He was accompanied on his tour of farmlands and waterfront communities by Lane. The former governor predicted Bruce would carry both Talbot and Wicomico counties in the primary.

Injured Youth 'Good'

Attaches at Memorial Hospital today reported Thomas E. Lowery, 13, City View Terrace, in "good" condition. The youth was admitted yesterday with a fractured vertebra sustained in a fall from a tree.

High School Bands Ready For Weekend

Festival Planned In Three Cities Of West Virginia

By The Associated Press
Note to band majorettes: put on an extra heavy layer of leg make-up this weekend, or the goose pimples may show.

Majorettes, who attract possibly as much attention as the bands, and high school musicians from all parts of West Virginia tomorrow invade Clarksburg, Bluefield and Huntington for the annual band festivals.

The weatherman has predicted mild weather for the occasion generally throughout the state, with weekend showers likely.

For the first time, three festivals are being held. Each will attract about 50 high school and junior high school bands.

Last year there were four sites but the West Virginia High School Activities Commission decided to incorporate the Fairmont district into the Clarksburg area.

Junior high groups can take part only in the grand parades on Saturday, according to commission rules. Another regulation is that no band may travel more than 100 miles to the festival cities.

Musicians picked for the all-state bands arrive in Huntington today for auditions and rehearsals. They will form three groups and perform at concerts tomorrow night.

These all-star concerts have been fixtures of the huge Huntington festivals of the past. Even after the event was broken up into three festivals, the all-star concerts in Huntington were retained.

For 21 years, Huntington was deluged each year by as many as 4,500 horn-totin' and drum-beatin' youngsters. They came from all over the state.

Then late in 1956, the activities commission decided that the festival was getting too big and voted to have four events in 1957.

The festivals themselves are non-competitive but bands are rated, although the ratings are not published.

Clarksburg will be host to bands from the northern part of the state. Bluefield, the southeastern and Huntington the southwestern portion.

Creek section west of Hagerstown was known as "The Bank Road," as it construction had been financed by various banks in Hagerstown and Baltimore.

As early as 1858 the Maryland General Assembly passed a bill for constructing a road between Fort Frederick and Fort Cumberland, Walsh said.

And the costs in those days were quite different than those today. The speaker noted that old records reveal that it cost $12 to build eight and one-half miles between Licking Creek and Prake's Creek.

Sixty dollars was appropriated to build a bridge over Siding Hill Creek.

The construction of four miles of road from Siding Hill Mountain to Fifteen-Mile Creek cost $22.

Walsh noted that in 1830, when the road was pushed westward into Ohio, the federal government turned over its maintenance to the states through which it ran.

Understatement

BALTIMORE — A federal prisoner walked into the city jail with a loaded .38 caliber revolver strapped to his leg. Warden Charles P. Price blamed U.S. deputy marshals, adding, "Why that guy could have killed two or three of my men."

Police Raid Large Gaming Layoff Center

WASHINGTON — Police and Internal Revenue agents last night arrested three men in a raid on an establishment described as a "very large gambling layoff operation" with connections throughout the Eastern part of the country.

Metropolitan Police Insp. John B. Layton said "it's the largest operation I've heard of in years, certainly in the last 10 years, in this area."

Layton said police and Internal Revenue agents had been watching the northwest Washington row house for the past two weeks.

Arrested were Julius Silverman, 48, Meyer Schwartz, 49, and Robert L. Martin, 39.

Layton said all three were charged with setting up a gaming table.

He described Schwartz as a recent arrival from Pittsburgh with a number of gambling convictions against him there.

Layton said records seized in the raid indicate the three men were running a "really large scale layoff operation, as high as $40,000 a day," on sporting events, mainly baseball and fighting.

Bill Would Hike Teacher's Pay

WASHINGTON — Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) has introduced a bill which would give District of Columbia teachers and school officials salary increases totaling about 15 million dollars a year.

The bill would boost starting salaries for teachers with bachelor's degrees from the present $3,900 to $5,000 a year, with 10 annual increases of $500 each. Corresponding increases would be given teachers and officials in higher pay brackets.

Abernethy's bill, specifies that its pay increases would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1958.

Crabbing Season Starts For Some

CRISFIELD, Md. — Today marks the beginning of the 1958 crabbing season for many lower Somerset County watermen.

More than 50 crabbers were expected to take to the waters of the Chesapeake Bay for the first time, although legally they could have started as early as April 1.

Prolonged cool weather curtailed the number of crabs caught during the first week and most of them decided to wait until warmer weather.

'Nagging Wives' Wear Men Down

LONDON — A nagging wife can wear a man down faster than bad working conditions or hours, the senior psychiatrist at London's St. George Hospital said today.

In considering individual breakdowns, Dr. Desmond Curran told a medical congress, problem mothers-in-law also have to be taken into account.

Fish And Steak Are 'Cook-Alikes'

For Best Results
EAST LANSING, Mich.—(INS)—Fish is as quick to cook as steak—in fact, the same cooking methods apply.
Mary Kay Coleman of Michigan State University's foods and nutrition department says that all fish is quite tender and can be cooked like tender cuts of meat.
The main problem in cooking fish, contends Miss Coleman, is to keep from over doing it. It is overcooked when it flakes apart and becomes excessively dry, according to the home economist.
The food instructor says fish is cooked as soon as it has changed from a transparent to a more solid appearance.
Miss Coleman says that many types of fish—perch, pike, cod and haddock—tend to be very low in fat so their flavor is improved by cooking that calls for added fat. Frying, for example, or broiling after brushing with melted butter or margarine.

Pancake Can Become A Creation

HIGH-STYLE PANCAKES — The pancake, once limited to breakfast-time appearances, is stepping out in culinary society. For a luncheon dish, these buttermilk pancakes have been stuffed with crabmeat filling.
By CECILY BROWNSTONE happened to the good old American Associated Press Food Editor can pancake. Once upon a time Oh my, the things that have made its main appearance at breakfast. Nowadays it's likely to show up at lunch or dinner. Some people may call this creative cooking—but what's in a name so long as the pancakes taste good?

Lunch first, if you please. When guests are coming, buttermilk pancakes may be made large size and stuffed with crabmeat—a la king. Pancakes and stuffing may be prepared ahead—even the night before—and be reheated in the oven without any watching, no fuss and feathers. What to serve with this luncheon dish? Add a salad of crisp greens, grapefruit and unpeeled red apple sections. Dress the salad with olive oil and wine vinegar and food-loving friends will be fed beautifully.
And now to dinner. Buckwheat pancakes are made dollar size and offered, topped with red caviar and sour cream, as a fancy first course. Or small rich thin pancakes, made from ordinary flour, arrive for dessert along with sun-baked strawberry preserves and spoonfuls of sweet heavy cream.
You may prepare the buttermilk pancakes for the luncheon dish from scratch or you may use the buttermilk pancake mix that now comes in a package. Here is how to use the mix with the crabmeat filling.
Pancakes With Crabmeat a la King
Ingredients: ½ cup chopped green pepper, ½ cup chopped celery, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 cups light cream, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, ¼ cup chopped pimiento, 2 cans (6½ ounces each) king crabmeat, 10 to 12 buttermilk pancakes.
Method: Lightly cook green pepper and celery in butter in 2-quart saucepan; stir in flour and salt. Add cream; cook gently and stir constantly until thickened. Add drained mushrooms, pimiento and crabmeat (cartilage removed). Place some filling over center of each pancake and overlap top edges. Arrange in one layer in baking dish; top with remaining filling. Cover and reheat at once, or after refrigeration, in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 25 minutes.
To Make Pancakes: Beat 1 egg until ivory color. Add 1½ cups milk, 1 cup buttermilk pancake mix and 1 tablespoon butter (melted). Shake or beat until there are no large flour lumps. Use 3 tablespoons batter for each pancake; pour close to hot lightly greased griddle.

Spring Lamb, Veal Chops Placed On Bargain List

By The Associated Press

Spring lamb will be a popular choice of bargain-hunting housewives in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.
Lamb prices are two to six cents a pound lower in some areas, although the reductions are not widespread.
Veal chops also are less expensive in scattered areas, while pork and chicken are somewhat higher generally. A few cautious reductions in sirloin and rib roast prices also are reported, but the beef market remains high.
The advent of spring also means liberal supplies of fresh vegetables in a good part of the country. The best buys are in spinach, broccoli-rabi and other cooking greens, yellow or green squash, endive, escarole, radishes and green onions. Squash is coming to market in good supply from Florida.
You can get good buys in carrots, lettuce, cucumbers, asparagus, cabbage, potatoes, peas, eggplant and pascal celery. Produce men report that some lettuce has a wide range in quality and condition, which calls for careful shopping. Tomatoes still are high.

Raisin Muffins Are Fine For Breakfast

To encourage the family to eat good breakfasts, try providing as much variety as possible.
A homemade hot bread now and then is a special treat, and will disappear like magic, even where breakfast is usually eaten reluctantly.
Raisin Apple Muffins are especially good, with plump raisins and coarsely grated apple for flavor. And if you measure and sift dry ingredients and grease pans the night before, you'll be surprised how little time it takes to get these muffins onto the table.
Raisin Apple Muffins
½ cup light or dark raisins
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup coarsely grated apple
1 egg
1 cup milk
Rinse and drain raisins. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in shortening. Stir in raisins and apple. Combine beaten egg and milk, add to dry ingredients and mix lightly. Fill greased muffin pan ¾ full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Makes about 12 (3-inch) muffins.
Jelly will ferment if it has had too little sugar added or has been improperly sealed.

Scallop Meat

Try scalloping leftover beef, lamb or pork with peas.
You'll need two cups of canned peas; one cup leftover meat, diced; two cups of white sauce; and dried bread crumbs topping. Combine the ingredients. Put in a moderate oven and bake for about 45 minutes.
For flavoring, try thyme with either the beef or pork and, that old standby — mint — for lamb.

'Salad' Sandwiches

You can add new interest to "salad" type sandwiches (egg, tuna, ham, chicken) by mixing in toasted almonds to the spread. Add one-half cup of roasted unblanched almonds to every three-fourths cup of spread. The crunchiness, different-tasting spread is perfect for living up children's lunch sandwiches or for tea sandwiches at your next bridge party.

Try Different Macaroni Salad

CHICAGO—(INS)—Make macaroni into a spring salad by using different ingredients.
Try an Amish-style salad. For eight ounces of elbow macaroni (two cups), add six slices diced and cooked bacon; three hard-boiled, chopped eggs; three medium-sized diced tomatoes; one cup sliced celery; one-third cup mayonnaise; one-third cup French dressing and one-half teaspoon salt. Toss lightly and serve chilled.
For a South-American style salad, you'll need eight ounces of elbow macaroni (two cups); four hard-cooked eggs; one-half cup chopped celery; one-half cup chopped green pepper; two small diced tomatoes; two tablespoons chopped chives; one-half cup French dressing; salt; pepper and two medium-sized avocados. Cut the eggs in half and remove yolks. Chop egg whites; press egg yolks through sieve.
Combine the macaroni with everything but the egg yolks and the avocados and chill for several hours. Before serving, peel and slice avocados, arrange around salad mixture and sprinkle with egg yolks.
For an unusual Chef's salad, you'll need eight ounces of macaroni (two cups); one-half cup mayonnaise; one-half cup milk; one tablespoon prepared horseradish; one-half teaspoon paprika; two tablespoons vinegar; one teaspoon salt; one medium-sized diced cucumber; one-fourth cup sliced radishes; two medium-sized, quartered tomatoes; three cups salad greens; two slices boiled ham which has been cut in strips.
Make the dressing by mixing the mayonnaise, milk, horseradish, paprika, vinegar and salt. Add it and the other ingredients to the macaroni. Chill and serve.
If you have a two-temperature refrigerator, you can usually keep food in the zero-degree freezing section for several months.

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING about Baking

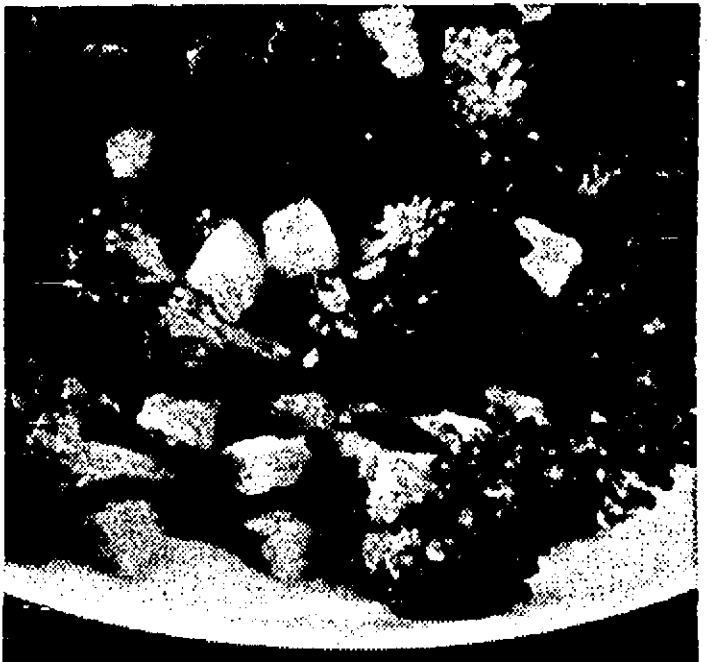

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you insure sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that fine, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Veal Tips
Lean veal can be kept from drying out during roasting by placing a few strips of bacon or a salt pork on the meat during cooking.

Nutritionists say veal, like pork, should be served well-done. All and scrape (with a wooden spoon) over low heat to dissolve a 325 degree oven until reaching the residue. Then strain and use an internal temperature of 180 as natural gravy, or thicken for degrees.

Chicken Gravy
Never waste the brown residue that sticks to the skillet when you are cooking chicken in a small amount of fat. After the chicken pieces are removed, add a little liquid to the pan and stir (with a wooden spoon) over low heat to dissolve a 325 degree oven until reaching the residue. Then strain and use an internal temperature of 180 as natural gravy, or thicken for degrees.

Minestrone—A Splendid Beginning

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Fresh vegetables make a hearty and delicious soup—the Italian Minestrone. Beef goes into this, too, as do red kidney beans and spaghetti.

Top this great concoction with grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, add a loaf of crusty Italian bread sprinkled with sesame seeds and you'll have a splendid beginning for a company or family meal.

Minestrone
Ingredients: 2 pounds shin beef with bone, 2 quarts cold water, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup diced carrots, 1 cup cut-up diced carrots, 1 cup diced pared potatoes, 1 cup sliced, zucchini squash (not pared), 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans, 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, 3 tablespoons garlic powder, 2 tablespoons minced fresh or dried parsley flakes, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons olive or other salad oil, 1/2 cup spaghetti (broken fine), grated Parmesan or Romano cheese.

Method: Put beef, water and salt in a 5-quart kettle. Cover and simmer until meat falls off the bones. Remove bones and meat; skim stock. Discard bones; cut up all meat into small pieces and return to stock. Add celery, carrots, snap beans, potatoes, squash, cabbage, kidney beans (including liquid in can), tomatoes (including liquid in can), onion, garlic powder, parsley, pepper, oil and spaghetti. Cover and simmer 30 minutes or until vegetables and spaghetti are soft. Serve with grated cheese.

Makes 4 quarts, enough for 16 servings. Note: A ham bone may be substituted for the shin beef and bacon fat may be used instead of the olive oil or other salad oil.

Springtime Vegetables
Ever serve crisp and deliciously flavored fennel—available at Italian and other markets? Serve it as finger food with tomato juice, or as a salad (sliced thin) with a dressing of olive, wine vinegar, salt and pepper.

Snap beans make a delightful salad when they are prepared Italian style. Cut ends from the fresh green beans and wash well in cold water. Cook whole, in a small amount of salted water, just until tender; cover during cooking but lift cover a few times to help keep beans green. Drain. Marinate in a mixture of olive oil, white wine vinegar, dry mustard, salt, white pepper—adding a suspicion of sugar and some paper-thin onion rings if you like. Serve on romaine, chicory or escarole. This salad is delicious with leftover cold veal or roast pork.

Our grandmothers used to make jams and jellies in huge amounts; but nowadays we realize that many jellied food products lose some of their flavor after many months of storage.

BIG SOUP FROM ITALY—Minestrone means "big soup" in Italian—and it's full of good things.

Try Cauliflower In Exotic Recipe
CHICAGO—(INS)—Want to try something different with cauliflower?

Here is a recipe which calls for wine and cheese, developed by the California Foods Research Institute for International News Service:

1 medium-size head cauliflower
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup sauterne or other white table wine
1/2 cup grated American cheese dash Tabasco sauce
dash Worcestershire sauce.

Separate cauliflower into florets and cook in boiling salted water until barely tender. Meanwhile, melt butter and blend in flour and salt. Stir in milk, wine, cheese, Tabasco and Worcestershire sauce and keep over low heat, stirring, until cheese melts. Drain cauliflower and pour cheese sauce over it. Serves five to six.

Next time there's a little baked ham or cold cooked smoked tongue leftover, slice it into thin strips. Mix it with matchstick-size strips of Swiss cheese, bite-size pieces of salad greens and French dressing for a luncheon or Sunday-night supper salad.

Spaghetti, Meat Balls Depend On Good Sauce

The art of Italian cooking reveals the mysteries of seasoning and garnishing and the extra deft touches that characterize Italian cookery at its best.

Italian cooking is famous for savory dishes concocted with wines, herbs and a sprinkling of cheese. Mrs. Pasquella in Philadelphia prepares an excellent spaghetti sauce which she serves with her meat balls.

The servings are large—she serves six, but eight people will be well satisfied and well fed.

For the sauce, chop 4 onions, 4 cloves of garlic and 3 tablespoons parsley fine and cook gently in 1/2 cup olive oil and 1/2 cup butter. Add 2 cans of tomato soup, 2 cans tomato puree, 2 cans spaghetti sauce, 1 small can Italian mushroom sauce, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, a bay leaf and salt and pepper to taste; let simmer four hours stirring occasionally.

Tomato Thickening
This sauce should be thick, but if it gets too thick, add a little water. The rich goodness of tomato pulp is the only thickening needed.

For the meat balls use 1 pound ground beef and chop 1 onion, 1 garlic clove, 1 tablespoon parsley fine and mix with 2 eggs, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1/2 cup milk and salt and pepper to taste. Mix thoroughly, and form into medium-sized balls. Brown in a couple of tablespoons olive oil and add to sauce. Let simmer about an hour.

Cook spaghetti allowing 3/4 pound per person. Serve with Parmesan cheese.

Mock Hollandaise
A quick mock hollandaise uses bottled lemon juice and mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Here is how to do it: stir two tablespoons bottled lemon juice and a dash of paprika into one-half cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Heat over very low heat to prevent curdling.

Thin crescents of green celery give crunchiness to a fresh fruit salad.

Neat Salad

Be neat when you prepare that salad! It will be most appetizing if the ingredients for it are sliced evenly or cut the same size.

Vegetable Cookery

Deep skillets with dome-type covers make perfect vegetable cookers. Because the covers fit tightly, they help retain moisture during the cooking, and only a small amount of water need be used. Broccoli and asparagus stalks may be laid flat in such a skillet, and if their fibrous outer covering has been pared off, tops and bottoms of the vegetables will cook in the same time.

Touch-Of-Spring Casserole Dish

AMES, Ia. — (INS) — A new method has been developed to freeze a molded salad made with gelatin so women can keep them in the home freezer, ready for meals.

Jewel Graham, extension nutritionist at Iowa State College, reports that the New Jersey Experiment station had developed such recipes to freezing.

The trick, said Miss Graham, is to use about one-fourth less liquid than the usual recipe calls for, because gelatin dishes tend to get watery after freezing and thawing.

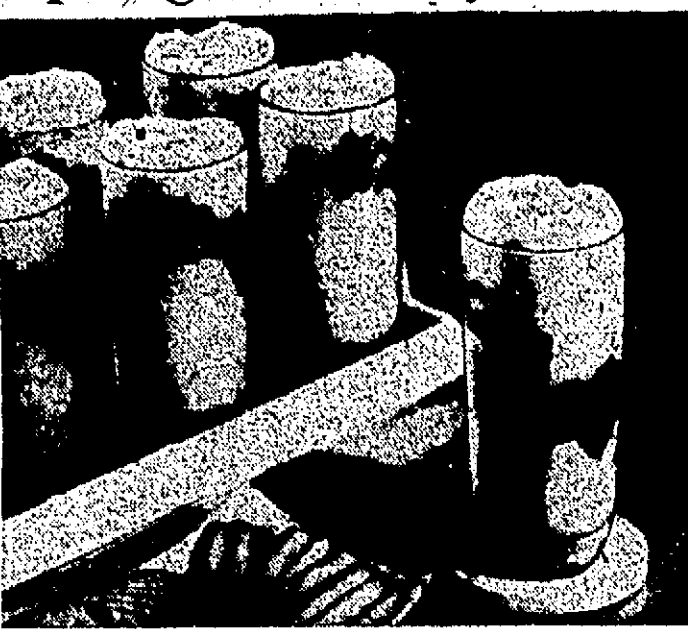

According to Miss Graham, salads made this way are a good consistency and even diced celery in tomato aspic and in molded chicken salads stay crisp.

If you want to try a freezer salad with a commercially packaged flavored gelatin, use one and one-half cups of water instead of the two cups mentioned in the printed instructions — in other words, cut the recipe by one-fourth.

For a molded chicken salad, used condensed cream soup and no other liquid except a bit of water for soaking the gelatin.

Spoon ice cream into an ice tray when you are planning to store it for a short while in the ice-cube compartment of your refrigerator; it will keep better that way than if it is stored in its paper container.

Springtime Party Drink

Springtime is party time. With the first hint of balmy breezes and the first popping of pale green buds on trees and bushes, youngsters begin to think of outdoor and party times.

Dress Up Dessert With Jelly Or Jam For Sweet Treat

EAST LANSING, Mich. (INS) — If you are planning on canned fruit for dessert, dress it up a bit with jelly or jam.

Use one-third to one-half cup of jelly, the juice of about half a lemon and bring them to a boil. If the mixture seems thick after melting, thin it a little with canned fruit juice.

For serving, place the canned fruit in serving dishes and pour the jelly sauce over. Place in the refrigerator and chill until dessert time.

Home economists at Michigan State University suggest orange marmalade sauce on canned pears or current jelly sauce on canned peaches.

Wives Pick Meat By "Good Looks"

DENVER — (INS) — According to a recent survey by the Colorado Experiment Station, housewives generally select meat by appearance or on their butchers' advice.

Economist C. R. Creek said a survey of Denver women showed more than half of those interviewed had no knowledge of official U. S. grades of meat and based their selection on color and leanness of the meat.

When shown three cuts of T-bone steak, each a different grade but without identifying marks or price tags, only two of ten picked the "choice" grade as the best steak they would buy. Half the women preferred the "good" grade and three in ten chose the commercial grade. The same course.

(test was given with beef roast and the majority of women choose the commercial grade over good and choice.)

Many women, especially those in the higher income bracket said they relied on the advice of their butchers for getting the quality of beef they want.

Color Or Quantity

Although searing meat in a very hot oven or skillet improves its brown appearance it does increase shrinkage. Take your choice!

Cook sliced mushrooms in butter and serve with broiled tomatoes. Add slices of broiled bacon and buttered toast and you have a fine luncheon main course.

When thoughts turn to parties, refreshments are the first consideration. It is well to keep them simple. Many times, cookies or cake and a yummy drink will fill the bill. For all occasions and to suit the tastes of everyone, a supply of ginger ale and fruit-flavored bottled beverages cooling in the refrigerator makes a hit with the family. But for party purposes a more elaborate drink is in order. Here's one that's a favorite with children, from tots to teen-agers.

PEANUT BUTTER MILK SHAKE

3/4 cup (1 small can) evaporated milk

1/2 cup peanut butter

1/4 cup light corn syrup

Pale dry ginger ale

Add evaporated milk to peanut butter, a small amount at a time, blending until smooth. Stir in corn syrup. Divide among 6 tall glasses. Fill each glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Stuff Peppers With New Filling

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (INS) — If your family likes stuffed green peppers, try a variety of fillings.

Here are some suggestions for fillings from Mrs. Anita Dean, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State University:

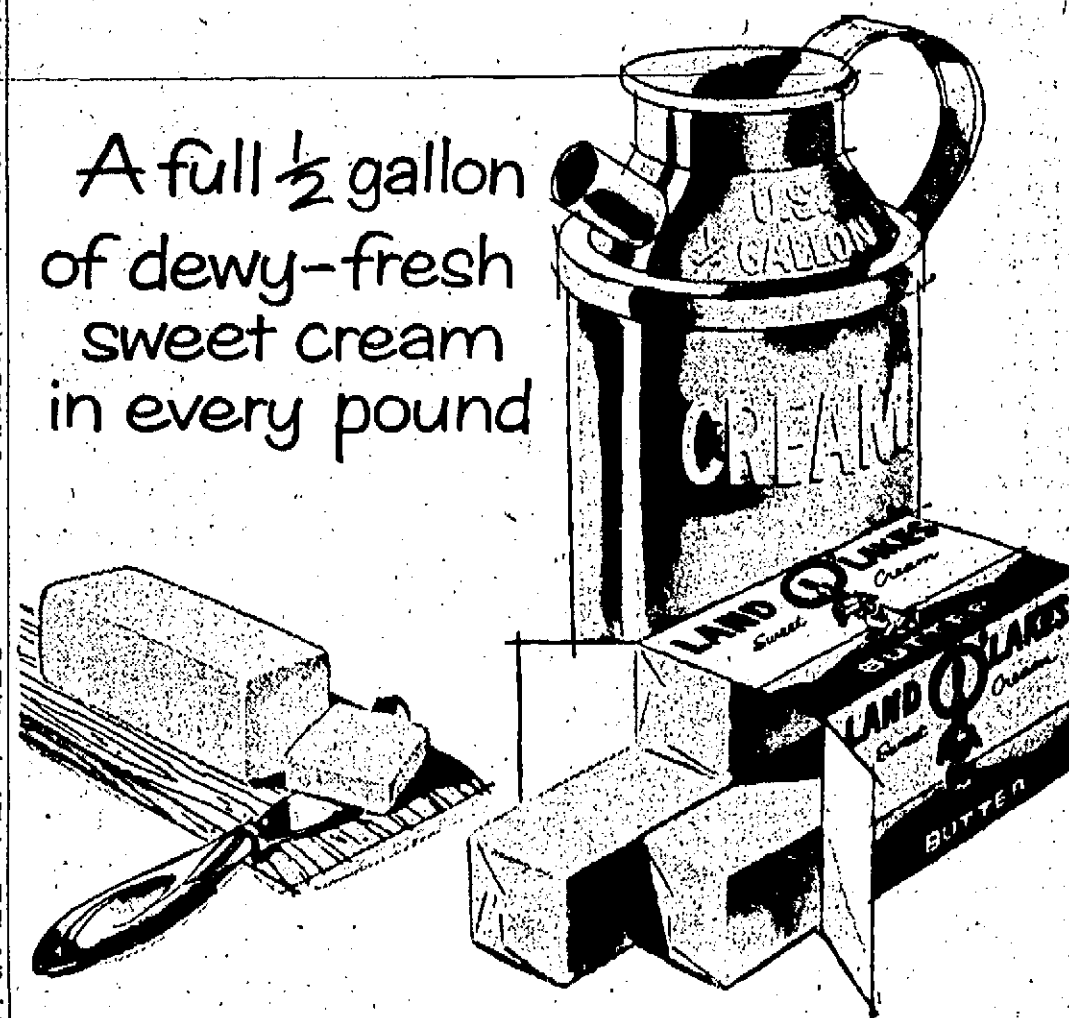

—Brown one small chopped onion with one pound of ground beef. Add medium tomatoes, chopped; one and one-half cups of cut fresh corn; salt and pepper. Bake in eight peppers for one hour (350 degree oven).

—Or mix cubed or ground leftover meat with bread crumbs, minced onion, dry mustard, salt and pepper and moisten with melted butter or beaten eggs.

—Whole kernel corn, well seasoned with butter, salt, and pepper, makes a filling which does not need meat, according to Mrs. Dean.

—She suggests spaghetti with meat sauce or Spanish rice as fillings for stuffed peppers with grated cheese topping.

Court Rules On Ownership Of Equipment

Judge Harris Resolves Lonaconing Plant Condemnation Issue

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris has filed a six-page opinion in Allegany County Circuit Court clarifying ownership of certain heavy equipment in the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc., plant at Lonaconing.

The opinion and court order were filed by Judge Harris in two related cases filed by Super-Coustic Industries Corporation. Super-Coustic claims that Gateway Steel Company and Fort Duquesne Steel Company should not have condemnation of certain goods and chattels at the Lonaconing plant because they were and still are property of the claimant.

At stake in the two cases were a two-ton hoist and trolley, a 3,000-pound coil crane, three presses and five cleatformers.

The claimant contends that the aforesaid property was sold to Super-Coustic Industries Corporation for $5,000 as evidenced by a bill of sale dated last November 19.

Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc., went into bankruptcy on March 5, 1958, and the first meeting of creditors was scheduled for April 21. Judge Harris writes that the bankruptcy does not affect the proceedings.

Undisputed testimony was that the machinery listed in the bill of sale was clearly and distinctly marked with a large label upon which was written "Property of Super-Coustic Industries Corporation."

"It is obvious that the machinery which was subject of the sale from Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc., to Super-Coustic Industries Corporation was too ponderous for actual delivery and it was sufficiently ear-marked for identification and the testimony indicates that this machinery was rented to Tach-Fast by Super-Coustic Industries Corporation for the sum of $40 per month although that sum was not paid and is in default," Judge Harris writes.

"This is not a case where there was any shenanigans or fraud. Hardie (Donald Means Hardie, president of Super-Coustic) was a friend of Sam Sipe (president of Tach-Fast); they were old school friends. It was apparent that Sipe's corporation, Tach-Fast, became in straitened circumstances and he, Sipe, appealed to his old school friend, Hardie, to assist him financially and Hardie through the kindness of his heart advanced $5,000 to him to help him save the corporation for Sipe and his creditors. The $5,000 went into the general funds of Tach-Fast and the creditors were benefited to this extent. All of the equities and justice tend themselves to protect the investment of Hardie in the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc.," Judge Harris concluded.

Judge Harris also signed an order stating that the goods and chattels at stake are still the property of Super-Coustic Industries Corporation and the property is relieved of the sheriff's levy and remains free from liens of the Gateway Steel Company and Fort Duquesne Steel Company.

Daughter Of Pianist Plans Marriage

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Josephine Heifetz, pianist daughter of violinist Jascha Heifetz, and Robert Byrne, editor of a local engineering trade magazine, obtained a marriage license Tuesday. Each is 27.

Friends said they would be married Saturday and will make their home in San Francisco.

Dinner Boosts Festival Kitty

SALISBURY (U)—The Delmarva Poultry Boosters boosted their kitty by about $123,000 last night with a $100-a-plate banquet to raise funds for promoting the sale of broilers.

About 1,015 turned out for the dinner program in the Wicomico County High School cafeteria and nearly 800 others contributed to the promotion fund.

The money will be used for the Delmarva Poultry Festival on June 25-27 and similar trade shows to promote broilers grown on the Eastern Shore of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

Last night's diners ate a diplomatically planned meal of chicken, Virginia potatoes, Delaware peas and Maryland apple pie.

Board Checks Heart Group Program Here

The Medical Advisory Board of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association last night made an evaluation of the activities of the association in community service and education.

Dr. Benedict Skitarellic, board chairman, said the physicians agreed the association program is rendering efficient service and that public demands for continued and broadened services are evident. The association's case load has more than tripled in the past 24 months.

Physicians urge more emphasis on public education, particularly through the schools, civic, fraternal and other organized groups, as a means of helping individuals understand and know how to care for themselves and members of their families who may have heart conditions.

It was noted, Dr. Skitarellic said, that one of the major tasks of any health agency is to educate the public by all available means. This is one of the best ways, he explained, to gain ground against America's No. 1 killer, heart disease. As the program has developed in the past decade, he observed, through close cooperation between the medical profession and volunteer lay people, it is estimated that the lives of many people suffering from heart disease have been extended as much as ten years.

Physicians present, representing both Garrett and Allegany counties, assured the association their continued cooperation and volunteered to help with a broadened education program in these two counties. The association, Dr. Skitarellic noted, will expand its film library, its educational committee and its programming of talks and seminars, in order to reduce the toll taken by heart disease in the area.

Members of the medical board praised especially the work of the association's visiting nurse, and work with rheumatic fever patients.

April Voter Registration High In City

April has been the heaviest city voter registration month since May, 1954, another election year, Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk, said today.

With another full day remaining, April registration as of noon today totaled 292 and the final figure is expected to be over 300. In May, 1954, there were 335 registrants.

Since January there have been 585 registered. That total included 159 in March, 47 in February and 87 in January.

The registration office, located in basement of City Hall with entrance off Bedford Street, will be open Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon and the same hours on Saturday, May 10.

Deadline for registration is 5 p. m., Tuesday, May 13.

The city's primary election will be June 3 and the general June 17.

Jazz Show Rated Tops For TV Popular Music

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (U)—Louis Armstrong certainly is our most effective of all ambassadors of good cheer.

Last night Louis set the beautifully cheerful mood of the Times All Star Jazz Show, heading a resplendent cast of hot-to-cool citizens of the lighter musical world in one of the best popular music concerts TV has ever enjoyed.

The jazz show was created by Oscar Cohen, produced and directed by Bill Hoban, written by George Simon with a sensitive efficiency and economy of words and a thorough respect for the good and too often neglected field of pure jazz.

It hardly could be improved except where a fan's individual preferences might suggest some virtuoso not on last night's merry list.

Armstrong's voice may need some slight explaining, but not his horn, which speaks eloquently for itself. He is unique and important when he is speaking with it or music and good cheer. He is great, and was wonderful last night.

So also were the others in the cast, who were herded together with cheerful respect by Garry Moore.

His participation was always helpful, never a bother or a distraction, and his strong, deft, experienced personality and uncomplaining perception of jazz kept the show striding along swiftly.

Jack Teagarden, standing astride several generations of jazz like Satchmo, is able to sustain the years on the purity of his style, which ranges from Dixieland to the present with a warm, unpretentious importance.

Lionel Hampton was there with his craftily organized thunder and showmanship, ranging from his vibes to the piano.

George Shearing contributed his special brilliance.

Jaye P. Morgan, from the pop singing ranks, was a thoroughly acceptable jazz singer and the young dukes of Dixieland exhibited the old New Orleans styles improved upon by Armstrong and this talented ilk through the decades.

Gerry Mulligan, a typical cool character toting a huge baritone sax, offered the modern, if not futuristic, approach to jazz.

Also present was Gene Krupa, applying wood to drums with such impassioned discipline that his sticks seem like a whirling, swirling rhythmic octopus. Cozy Cole's percussive presence also must be noted, admirably.

In the end, they all joined in a blues number and despite a disparity of styles brought the show to a bright finale with the feeling that they had labored well and effectively in the cause of jazz.

It was one of the few uncluttered jazz shows. No one apparently insisted on injecting irrelevant performers to hoke things up or to exhibitionistically hamper the real stars, as happened on the first Times jazz show.

It set a simple and admirable yardstick for future jazz telecasts, created an exuberant and shrewdly rolling pace and variety and proved something we've been hollering from this house for eight years—that there is a place in TV for a good, knowledgeable, tasteful jazz telecast on a regular basis.

Last night's was a dandy.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: I am a grown man of 28 who is married and has a family of my own. My problem is my mother. She has a picture of me in my birthday suit. It is as big as life and she keeps it hanging in the living room of all places. Every time I go over there and see it I get mad. I have asked her a hundred times to please take it down but she hasn't done it yet. How can I get it off the wall without stealing it?

Dear Abby
DEAR GORDON: Have a nice family portrait taken. Be sure it's the same size as the "birth day suit" picture - and frame it beautifully. Present it to your mother for Mother's Day with your small request.

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a honey but she is causing me a big problem. She is a widow and very lonely so she asks to take my children for the weekend. When she has them she lets them do just as they please with no schedule and no discipline. She feeds them "franks," soda pop, chow mein and pizza pies. The children are 2 and 3 years old. How can I put a stop to this without hurting her feelings?

Dear Abby
DEAR NOT: Simply write out a list of what the children should eat, and what they should NOT eat. Emphasize the "nap" time and you should have no trouble.

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a wonderful guy, but here is my problem: He doesn't like to shave on week-ends and that's when I see the most of him. He is blond and you can't SEE his whiskers but you can sure feel them. My face breaks out after I'm with him, but he says if I shave on week-ends, his face breaks out. So it is either his face or mine. What should we do?

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: I became friends with a neighbor lady where I lived some fifteen years ago. We corresponded and kept track of each other. Now I'm not rolling in money but I'm not destitute either. This lady must think of me as her "pet charity" because she collects used clothing from all her friends and sends me huge boxes of used clothing (some of it is in pretty poor condition) for my children, my husband and myself. I have never indicated to her that I needed anything and my husband has always worked steady and supported us well. Don't you think she should have asked before sending me these things? What do you advise me to do about it?

Dear Abby
DEAR NOT: Your friend undoubtedly means well, but she is very presumptuous. Thank her for her thoughtfulness and pass the boxes on to the needy.

Dear Abby
CONFIDENTIAL TO "A Widow Now": You are not a widow now. You are a divorcee whose former husband passed away.

State AFL-CIO Endorses Foley
The Maryland State AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education has announced its unanimous vote to support Judge John R. Foley for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District.

State AFL-CIO Endorses Foley
Upon learning of the endorsement, Foley, the 1956 Democratic Congressional candidate, said, "It is heartwarming to receive these announcements of support. I sincerely appreciate the assurances of continued support that I have been receiving for recent weeks from all over the Sixth District. My committee and I invite all Democrats to join us in the campaign that will return this district to the Democratic ranks."

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, May 2, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Spend your time on worthwhile things that bring solid results. Spend your money judiciously; shop around a bit before committing yourself to a purchase. Investments: Cheerfulness important!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—This can be a fruitful, productive day for the industrious. Don't, however, be lulled in a sea of detail. Present a pleasant manner and attentive ear and gain will be forthcoming.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Mercury aspect variable. Take all problems in stride for they can be solved with diligence. Application. Direct efforts constructively.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Encouraging rays to urge you forward to new goals. Avoid a tendency to relax during work hours. Don't be disappointed if progress is slower than expected, however.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Keep "up to snuff" as the occasion demands. Professional persons, secretaries, group leaders, manual workers and artists have good opportunities to achieve. Caution now. Caution important, however.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—With no aspects tending strongly one way or another now, it would be well to line up thoughtfully all "musts" and like them in order. Give yourself a pep talk.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Step up your tempo where possible. Avoid a tendency to strain. Slow up where you are being crowded and could become irritable. Evenness—avoiding spasmodic action—important. Give yourself a pep talk.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Mars, your special planet, in line position, indicates that you should make time to get your chores done as quickly as possible (without overdoing), but also be at ease.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—With little planetary help, much will depend upon your own good sense of management and direction. Accurate your naturally warm feeling, your understanding, tolerance.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn)—You are "extra" started, and perhaps finish some old tasks, but don't overdo. Sociability and optimism encouraged.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—With careful judgment and deliberation, you can build this mediocre day into an advantageous one, with possibilities of future finer returns.

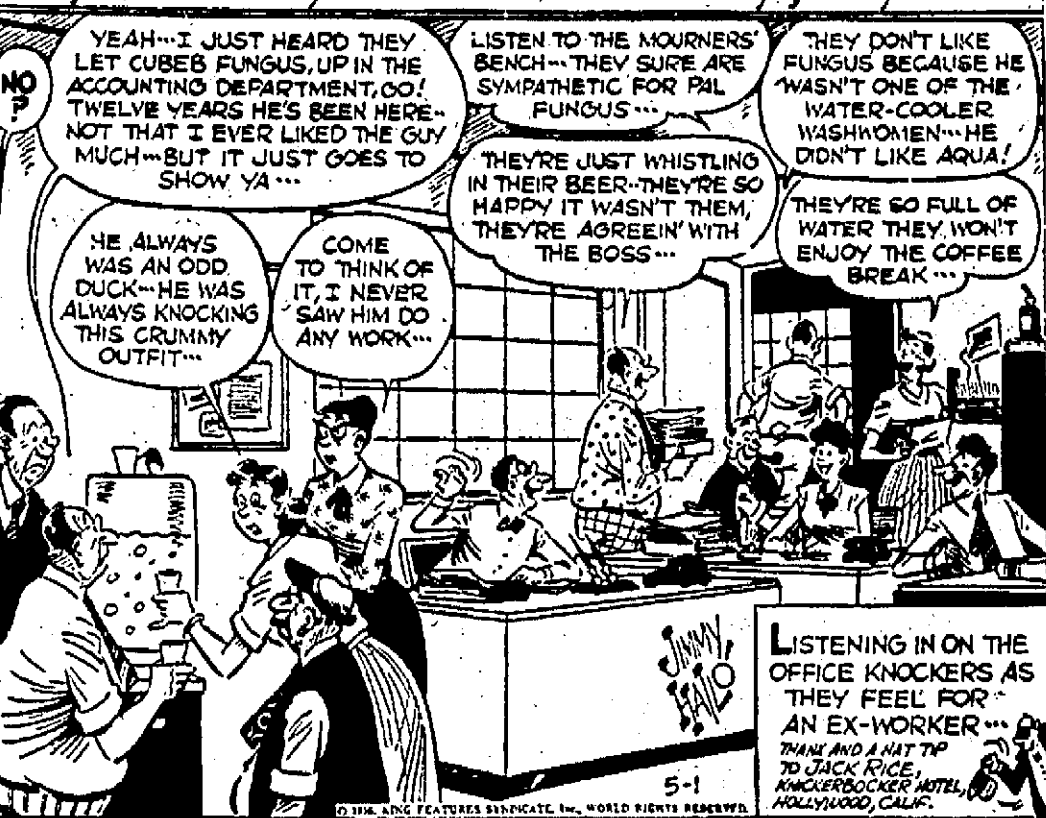

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Venus' position promises new contacts, impressions, alma, environment. Work harder for your desires; they can be new pleasure in honest labor.

YOU BORN TODAY, of Taurus, have one characteristic that is outstanding and that is STABILITY. One you are developing your better side, seeking more learning, education, working for wholesome ends, you of this birthdate can make rapid strides toward the top, and help others, too. You have persistence, practicality (can cut red tape efficiently), but don't be stubborn. And don't rush through one hour and daily the next. Taurus need to set a schedule, both for the sake of achievement and for maintaining health and peace of mind. Love and gentle persuasion can sway you, but you won't be wooed.

Slam Hangs On Three Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Both North and South overbid a trifle and a club opening would have surely beaten the slam. However, West did open the jack of hearts and dummy and East played low. If East had taken his ace the hand would have been a spread.

Arnold Levine of Pittsburgh who sat South noted that there was only one combination of cards that would allow him to bring home 12 tricks. East had to have the king of clubs and the ace of hearts and West had to hold the king of spades.

Any play is better than no play so Mr. Levine won his queen of hearts and led a spade to dummy's queen. When it held business looked up a little. A low spade was ruffed and a diamond led to dummy's jack. The last low spade was ruffed and now Arnold led another diamond to dummy and cashed the ace of spades, discarding a heart.

Now the king of hearts was led from dummy. East won with his ace and had to lead away from his king of clubs, since the lead of a heart would enable Arnold to ruff in his own hand and discard dummy's losing club.

Two Indicted For Bribery In Morgantown
MORGANTOWN (AP)—A special Monongalia County grand jury has indicted two persons connected with the General Daniel Morgan Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on a charge of being involved in a bribery attempt.

The special grand jury was called by Circuit Judge Don J. Eddy to investigate wrongdoing in public office within Monongalia County. The session lasted two days.

Sheriff Charles J. Whiston won complete exoneration yesterday. Whiston was asked by the jury to appear before the panel, which is a highly unusual development.

Whiston, a Republican, was elected in 1956 for a four-year term.

The indictments were returned against Dominick Bonifili, identified by court officials as manager of the VFW club, and Andy Pastore, identified only as a club member. Bonifili was charged with attempting to give a bribe and Pastore with aiding and abetting in the bribery attempt.

New Service Station
Esso Standard Oil Company yesterday obtained a building permit from the city engineer's office to construct a $15,000 concrete block service station with all the necessary buildings and equipment at 522-28 Virginia Avenue.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

Board Plans School For Poll Workers

A school of instruction will be held at the Court House between May 8 and 15 for chief judges and machine judges who will operate the polling places in the Allegany County primary election on May 20.

Irvin J. Neat, chief clerk of the County Board of Election Supervisors, said this school is not compulsory for experienced workers. However, he has designated certain election districts whose workers are to report on specific days if they wish instruction. It is necessary to assign workers for specified days so that they do not all come to the Court House on the same night.

Neat explained that the judges will be notified only through this newspaper announcement. There will be no individual notices to the workers.

The following schedule has been arranged:

May 8, 7 p. m. — Election Districts 1, Little Orleans; 2-33, Oldtown-Kifer; 3, Flintstone; 16, North Branch; 17, Vale Summit; 9, Barton; 8:15 p. m. — 4, 2 and 6, and 4-5 and 7, all South-End.

May 9, 7 p. m. — Election District 11, Frostburg; 12-32, Frostburg; 26-1 and 2, Frostburg; 28-1 and 2, Frostburg; 8:15 p. m. — 4-5 South-End; 5-2 and 3, North-End; 5-4, North-End, and 35, East Side.

May 12, 7 p. m. — 4-4 and 8, South-End; 22 1-2-3, East Side; 31, McCoole; 8:15 p. m. — 5-1 and 5, North-End; 6-5, West Side; 6-6, Bowling Green; 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings.

May 13, 7 p. m. — 8-1 and 8-2, Westernport; 8-4, Luke; 5-6, North-End; 18 1-2, Midland; 30, Zihlman; 8:15 p. m. — 13 1-2 and 13-3, Mt. Savage; 20-1, Ellerslie; 20-2, Corriganville; 34, Cumberland.

May 14, 7 p. m. — 23 1-2-3, East Side; 29 1-2, LaVale; 19, Borden Shaft; 8:15 p. m. — 14-1 and 2, Cumberland; 24, Eckhart; 10-1, 15-1, 25, Lonaconing; 10-2, 15-2, Lonaconing.

May 15, 7 p. m. — 6-1 and 2, 6-3 and 4, West Side; 21, Gross.

New machine and chief judges attended a compulsory school of instruction at the Court House April 21, 22 and 23. About 15 were present each night.

Unscheduled Fire Drill Observed

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — Members of the Burrill Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association have seen, first hand, an unscheduled fire drill. They joined the exodus as teachers led 250 hallooed and countless children into rain-swept streets when two mothers sounded the alarm.

The PTA's executive committee was in the principal's office when the group spotted what appeared to be smoke up through the floor. They sounded the alarm.

The "smoke" proved to be steam escaping from a defective safety valve.

Airman's Last Wish For Burial At Sea Fulfilled

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The last wish of an Air Force staff sergeant to be buried at sea was fulfilled Wednesday.

The body of Sgt. Bertram G. Bugg, 33, was dropped overboard from the destroyer escort Parle into 395 fathoms (2,370 feet) about 65 miles off the Virginia Capes. Lt. Ronald Starenko, a Navy chaplain, read the burial service. A six-man firing squad fired three volleys. A bugler blew taps.

Present were Bugg's widow, Mrs. Evelyn J. Bugg, and his niece, Mrs. Mary Lou Lester, both of Evansville, Ind. Mrs. Bugg said the burial was "the most beautiful and moving ceremony I have ever seen. I will be eternally grateful to the U.S. Navy."

After the body was committed, the colors used in the program were presented to the widow by the Parle's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. J. W. Perkins of Norfolk.

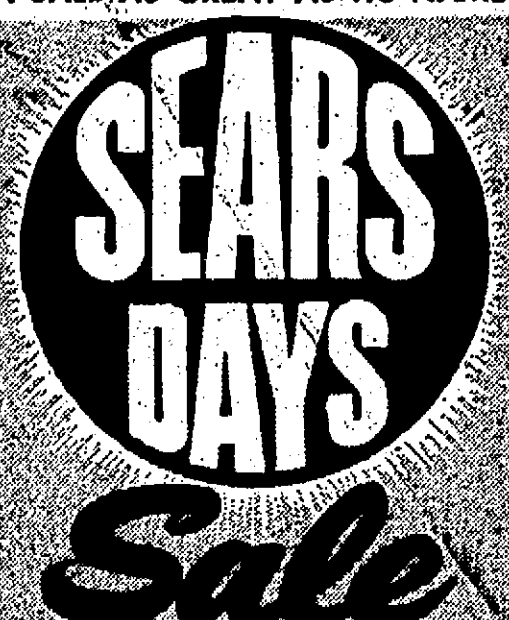

A spokesman at Atlantic Fleet headquarters said Mrs. Bugg's request that her husband be buried at sea was the first it had received on behalf of an Air Force man. Very few such requests are received from the families of Navy men, the spokesman said.

Bugg, whose last duty station was at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., died of pneumonia April 17 after major surgery.

Bugg had served in the Marine Corps and in the Navy before he joined the Air Force in 1954. As a Marine, he served in four major engagements in the Pacific and received the Purple Heart for wounds sustained on Guadal.
